The above-named petitioners hereby petition for a redetermination of the deficiency set forth by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue in his notice of deficiency (bearing Service symbols Form L-50 AD AP:NY:JPC:RR) dated March 29, 1973, and as the basis for their case allege as follows:

1. The petitioners, HERBERT MARX, an individual with his legal residence at 325 West 86th Street, New York, New York, JACQUES COE, JR., an individual with his legal residence at 3 Wakeman Place, Larchmont, New York and CHASE MANHATTAN BANK, N.A., a corporation with its principal office at 1 Chase Manhattan Plaza, New York, New York, are the duly qualified Executors of the Last Will and Testament of LUDWIG NEUGASS, deceased, who died a resident of New York County, New York, on February 24, 1969. Petitioners' principal office is c/o Chase Manhattan Bank, N.A., 1 Chase Manhattan Plaza, New York, New York 10005. The estate tax return here involved was filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue for the District of Manhattan, New York.

2. The notice of deficiency (a copy of which is attached and marked Exhibit A) was mailed to one of the petitioners on March 29, 1973.

3. The deficiency as determined by the Commissioner is in estate tax on the decedent's estate in the amount of $249,231.31, all of which is in dispute, together with an amount of refund to be determined at the conclusion of this proceeding.

4. The determination of tax set forth in the said notice of deficiency is based upon the following errors:

(a) Inclusion in the gross estate of $25,385 as an increase over the returned value of Meissen porcelains owned by the decedent at the date of his death.

5a

(b) Inclusion in the gross estate of $257,300 as an increase over the returned value of paintings owned by the decedent at the date of his death.

(c) Decrease of the marital deduction by $337,329.88 (or such greater or lesser amount as may be determined in this proceeding), on the alleged ground that the interest of the surviving spouse in the above mentioned Meissen procelains and paintings as of the date of the decedent's death was a terminable interest.

(d) Failure to allow a deduction from the gross estate for additional attorney's fees and miscellaneous expenses incurred or to be incurred in connection with the administration of the estate and in this proceeding, but not yet paid.

(e) Failure to allow credit for estate tax paid or to be paid by the estate to the State of New York in the amount of $48,410.35, said amount being subject to adjustment by reason of any increase or decrease in the taxable estate as finally determined in this proceeding.

5. The facts upon which the petitioners rely as the basis of this case are as follows:

(a) LUDWIG NEUGASS (hereinafter referred to as the decedent) died on February 24, 1969, and at the date of his death was a citizen of the United States, and a resident of New York City, New York County, New York.

(b) Petitioners elected to have decedent's gross estate valued in accordance with values as of the date or dates subsequent to the decedent's death as authorized by Section 2032 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

(c) Decedent owned Meissen porcelains on the date of his death.

(d) Based on all the facts and circumstances, the fair market value of the aforesaid Meissen porcelains, on the alternate valuation date, was $50,770.

(e) Decedent owned paintings on the date of his death.

(f) Based on all the facts and circumstances, the fair market value of the aforesaid paintings, on the alternate valuation date, was $583,525.

(g) The estate will pay attorneys' fees and disbursements to PROSKAUER ROSE GOETZ & MENDELSOHN of New York, New York, for legal services rendered and to be rendered by said firm in connection with the administration of the estate and in this proceeding, and petitioners claim the right to deduct the full amount of said fees (such amount may be in excess of the amount reflected on the United States Estate Tax Return, Form 706, as originally filed), the amount of such deduction to be determined at the conclusion of this proceeding.

(h) Petitioners will incur and pay miscellaneous expenses in connection with the administration of the estate in addition to those heretofore incurred and paid, and petitioners claim the right to deduct the full amount of said expenses, the amount of such deduction to be determined at the conclusion of this proceeding.

(i) Under Article FIFTH of decedent's Will, decedent bequeathed his entire art collection to his spouse, which bequest qualifies for the marital deduction under Section 2056 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, in that (i) the decedent was survived by his spouse, (ii) the entire art collection passed from the decedent to his spouse, and (iii) the property interest that passed from decedent to his spouse is a deductible interest under Treasury Regulations Section 20.2056(a)-2.

(j) The property interest that passed from the decedent to his spouse is not a "terminable interest" as defined in Treasury Regulations Section 20.2056(b)-1(b).

(k) Estate taxes have been paid or will be paid to the State of New York for the full amount allowable under the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 within the period set forth in Section 2011(c) thereof, and petitioners claim the right to the allowance of credit against the estate tax for the full amount of said New York estate taxes.

Petition

WHEREFORE, the petitioners pray that this Court may try this case, determine that there is no deficiency in Federal estate tax due from these petitioners, and determine that there is a refund for Federal estate tax due to these petitioners, and grant such other and further relief as may be proper in the premises.

STIPULATION OF FACTS

The parties hereby stipulate and agree that for the purpose of this case the following facts and exhibits attached hereto and made a part hereof may be taken as true, subject to the rights of the parties to introduce other and further evidence not inconsistent with this stipulation and preserving the parties' rights to object, at the time of trial, to any and all portions of said stipulation and attached exhibits as they may deem irrelevant or immaterial.

1. The decedent died testate and domiciled in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, New York on February 24, 1969.

2. The decedent's last will and testament was duly admitted to probate on April 3, 1969 in the Surrogate's Court,

17a
Stipulation of Facts

New York County, New York. A copy of the will is attached as Exhibit 1.

3. Herbert Marx, Jacques Coe, Jr., and Chase Manhattan Bank, N.A. were issued letters testamentary by the Surrogate's Court, New York County, New York. On June 20, 1973, the date of the filing of the petition, their principle office was c/o Chase Manhattan Bank, N.A., 1 Chase Manhattan Plaza, New York, New York 10005.

4. Petitioners filed a Federal estate tax return with the District Director of Internal Revenue in Manhattan, New York on May 22, 1970. A copy of the return is attached as Exhibit A.*

5. The testator left surviving himself, his wife Caroline, his daughter Nancy Caruso, and two grandchildren.

6. On July 2, 1969, Caroline Neugass executed, pursuant to the provisions of Article FIFTH (b) of the testator's last will and testament, a notarized document with an attached schedule. A copy of that document and the attached schedule is attached as Exhibit 2.

7. On July 2, 1969, Caroline Neugass executed, pursuant to the provisions of Article FIFTH (a) of the testator's last will and testament, a notarized document. A copy of the document is attached as Exhibit 3.

*Note: Exhibit "A" omitted from this Appendix.

Stipulation of Facts

8. On July 2, 1969, Nancy Caruso executed, pursuant to the provisions of Article FIFTH(b) of the testator's last will and testament, a notarized document with an attached schedule. A copy of that document and the attached schedule is attached as Exhibit 4.

9. Petitioners concede that the value of the property listed in Item 6 on Schedule B of the return should be increased by $15.84 as set forth in the statutory notice.

10. The parties agree that the $250,000.00 U.S. Treasury Bonds, 3%, due 2/15/95, listed in Item 16(a) and (b) on Schedule B of the return, are to be valued at par to the extent of the Federal estate tax liability as finally determined.

11. Respondent concedes that the value of the property listed in Item 1 on Schedule F of the return is correct as reported on the return.

12. The parties agree that Item 9 on Schedule F of the return was properly eliminated as set forth in the statutory notice.

13. The parties agree that the proper amount to be reported under Item 3-i on Schedule J of the return will be computed at the time of the Rule 155 computation based upon documentation to be submitted by petitioners at that time.

Stipulation of Facts

14. The parties agree that the debts of the decedent listed on Schedule K of the return were properly increased by $23,134.31 as set forth in the statutory notice.

15. Respondent concedes that petitioners are entitled to a credit for estate taxes paid to the State of New York to the fullest extent allowable under the provisions of Int. Rev. Code of 1954, §2011.

EXHIBIT 1 ANNEXED TO STIPULATION OF FACTS
(WILL)

I, LUDWIG NEUGASS, of the City, County and State of New York, do hereby make, publish and declare this to be my Last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all prior Wills, Testaments and Codicils at any time made by me.

FIRST: (a) I direct that all my just debts and funeral and administration expenses be paid as soon after my death as may be practicable.

(b) I desire that my remains be cremated.

SECOND: I give and bequeath all of my household and personal effects, including jewelry and automobiles, if any, but not including paintings, procelain or other works of art, to my wife, CAROLYN NEUGASS, if she survives me or, if she predeceases me, to my daughter, NANCY CAROUSO, if she survives me.

THIRD: I give and bequeath:

- |   |                           |
|---|---------------------------|
| (b) To UNITED JEWISH APPEAL OF GREATER NEW YORK, INC.,the sum of                                      | FOUR THOUSANDDOLLARS  |

| (e) To NEW YORK TUBERCULOSIS HEALTH ASSOCIATION, INC.,the sum of                                      | TWO THOUSANDDOLLARS   |

(f) To KESSLER INSTITUTE FOR REHABILITATION, the sum of                   ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS

(g) To DEBORAH HOSPITAL of Brown Mills, New Jersey,
the sum of   THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS

FOURTH: (a) I give and bequeath the sum of TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS to my brother, FRITZ NEUGASS, if he survives me or, if he predeceases me, to his widow, if she survives me, provided she was married to and living with him at the date of his death.

(b) I give and bequeath the sum of THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS to my friend SIEGFRIED LIEPTER if he survives me.

(c) I give and bequeath the sum of TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS to LORE HITCHCOCK, if she survives me or, if she predeceases me, to her husband, HOBART HITCHCOCK, if he survives me or, if he also predeceases me, to their descendants me surviving, per stirpes.

FIFTH: I direct that if my wife, CAROLYN NEUGASS, survives me, she shall have the life use of all my paintings and other works of art (hereinafter called my "collection"), without bond, and that upon her death my daughter, NANCY CAROUSO, if she is then living, shall have the life use of said collection, without bond. Upon the death of the survivor of my wife and my daughter, said collection shall become the absolute property of the LUDWIG NEUGASS FOUNDATION.

Neither my wife nor my daughter shall be under any duty to insure said collection or any item therein,

Exhibit 4 Annexed to Stipulation of Facts

but if the FOUNDATION shall elect so to insure the proceeds received upon any loss shall become the absolute property of the FOUNDATION, (free of the life use of either my wife or my daughter).

With respect to any item in said collection:

(a) Within six months after the date of my death, either my wife or my daughter may renounce her life use thereof and, if both of them so renounce, the item shall become the absolute property of the FOUNDATION.

(b) Within six months after the date of my death, either my wife or my daughter may elect to take absolute ownership of any item, whereupon said item shall become the absolute property of my wife or my daughter; in the case of my daughter, such election shall take effect if and only when her life use has begun.

(c) At any time after said six months period either my wife or my daughter may terminate her life use of any item and thus accelerate with respect to said item the provisions otherwise effective upon her death.

SIXTH: All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real, personal or otherwise and wheresoever situate, including any lapsed legacies or bequests, hereinafter called my residuary estate, shall be disposed of as follows:

(a) If my wife and any descendant of mine survives me, one-half of my residuary estate shall be set aside for my wife and disposed of as provided in subdivision (d) of this Article and one-fourth of my residuary estate (or one-half thereof if my daughter, NANCY, survives me and has no then living descendants) shall be set aside for NANCY and

disposed of as provided in subdivision (f) of this Article and one-fourth thereof (or one-half thereof if NANCY does not survive me but any descendant of hers does survive me) shall be divided into separate shares per stirpes for NANCY's descendants me surviving and each such share shall be disposed of as provided in subdivision (g) of this Article.

(b) If my wife predeceases me, three-fourths of my residuary estate (or all thereof if my daughter survives me and has no then living descendants) shall be set aside for NANCY and disposed of as provided in subdivision (f) of this Article and one-fourth thereof (or all thereof if NANCY predeceases me and any descendant of hers survives me) shall be divided into separate shares per stirpes for NANCY's descendants me surviving and each such share shall be disposed of as provided in subdivision (g) of this Article.

(c) If my wife survives me and if no descendant of mine survives me, my residuary estate shall be set aside in two equal parts for my wife, one to be disposed of as provided in subdivision (d) of this Article and the other as provided in subdivision (e) of this Article.

(d) Any share above set aside for my wife and directed to be disposed of as provided in this subdivision (d) shall be held by my Executors and Trustees in separate trust to pay the income therefrom in quarterly or more frequent installments to my wife during her lifetime. Upon her death, the then principal of said trust shall pass in such manner (including to her estate, if she so appoints) as my wife shall by Will appoint but, to the extent that said power shall not be effectively exercised, said principal shall be added to the principal of the trust for my daughter, NANCY, under subdivision (f) of this Article and disposed of as a part thereof or, if NANCY is then dead, shall be divided into separate portions per stirpes for her then living descendants and each such portion shall be held in trust as provided in subdivision (g) of this Article or added to any then existing trust under subdivision (g) and disposed of as a part thereof (subject to subsequent but not prior mandatory distributions of principal).

(e) Any share above set aside for my wife and directed to be disposed of in this subdivision (e) shall be held by my Executors and Trustees in separate trust to pay the income therefrom in quarterly or more frequent installments to my wife during her lifetime. Upon her death the then principal of said trust shall be distributed absolutely to the LUDWIG HEUGASS FOUNDATION.

(f) Any share above set aside for my daughter and directed to be disposed of as provided in this subdivision (f) shall be held by my Executors and Trustees in separate trust to pay the income therefrom in quarterly or more frequent installments to my daughter during her lifetime. Upon her death the then principal of said trust shall pass to such one or more of her descendants in such shares, equal or unequal, and subject to such lawful trusts, terms and conditions as she shall by Will specifically referring to this Will appoint but to the extent that said power shall not be effectively exercised, said principal shall be divided into separate portions per stirpes for her then living descendants and each such portion shall be distributed absolutely except that any portion so set aside for a person who is then the beneficiary of a trust or trusts hereunder shall be added to the principal of said trust(s) and disposed of as a part thereof (subject to subsequent but not prior mandatory distributions of principal.)

(g) Upon my death or the death of my wife, any share or portion above directed to be disposed of as provided in this subdivision (g) shall be held by my Executors and Trustees in separate trust to apply so much of the income therefrom for the support, education and maintenance of the beneficiary as my Executors and Trustees, in their absolute discretion, deem necessary or advisable, accumulating any balance of said income and adding the same to principal until the beneficiary attains the age of twenty-one. Thereafter, the income shall be paid to the beneficiary during his or her lifetime provided that upon the beneficiary attaining the age of twenty-five, one-fourth of the then principal of his or her trust shall be distributed to him or her absolutely; upon the beneficiary attaining the age of thirty, a further one-third of the then principal of his or her trust shall be distributed to him or her absolutely and upon the beneficiary attaining the age of thirty-five, the balance of the principal of his or her trust shall be distributed to him or her absolutely.

In the event of and upon the death of the beneficiary during the continuance of his or her trust, the then principal thereof shall be divided into separate parts per stirpes for his or her then living descendants or in default thereof for my then living descendants and each such part shall be distributed absolutely except that any part so set aside for a person who is then the beneficiary of a trust hereunder shall be added to the principal of said trust and disposed of as a part thereof (subject to subsequent but not prior mandatory distributions of principal).

(h) I authorize and empower my Executors and Trustees to pay to or apply for the beneficiary of any trust under subdivision (d), (f) and (g) of this Article so much of the principal of his or her trust as my Executors and Trustees, in their absolute discretion, deem in his or her best interests without regard to his or her other resources. With respect to the trust for my wife under subdivision (e) of this Article, in the remote contingency that the trust for her benefit under subdivision (d) of this Article has been exhausted, I authorize and empower my Executors and Trustees to pay to or apply for the benefit of my wife such sums out of the principal of her trust under subdivision (e) of this Article as they deem that she needs for her support after giving due consideration to her other resources including, without limitation, all of her interests under this Will.

(i) Notwithstanding the foregoing, no trust created by this Will shall continue longer than twenty-one years after the death of the last survivor of my wife and all of my descendants living at the date of my death and at the end of such period if any trust is still in force, it shall thereupon terminate and the principal thereof shall be distributed absolutely to the beneficiary of said trust.

SEVENTH: In the remote contingency that upon my death or upon the termination of any trust hereunder any part of my residuary estate or the principal of said trust is not effectively disposed of pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this Will, I give, devise and bequeath said property absolutely to the LUDWIG NEUGASS FOUNDATION.

EIGHTH: I nominate and appoint my friends JACQUES COE, JR. and HERBERT MARKS and THE CHASE MANHATTAN BANK as Executors hereof and Trustees hereunder. If either of JACQUES or HERBERT fails to qualify or ceases to be qualified, I nominate and appoint my friend, ABRAHAM J. BRILOFF, to fill the vacancy.

Subject to the foregoing, I authorize and empower a sole surviving individual Executor or Trustee to designate an individual to act with or succeed him.

I direct that no bond or other security be required for any reason whatsoever of any Executor or Trustee named herein or designated as herein provided.

NINTH: I hereby grant to my Executors and Trustees, in addition to the general powers conferred upon them by law, the following discretionary powers with respect to the property, real, personal or otherwise, at any time constituting part of my estate or of the trusts herein except that subdivisions (a), (b) and (m) shall not apply to the trust for my wife under subdivision (d) of Article SIXTH of this Will:

(a) To distribute my estate and set up the trusts herein at one time or at different times as soon after my death as they may deem practicable, whether before or after the expiration of any statutory period.

(b) To charge or credit to principal or income or to apportion between them, in such manner as they deem advisable, any ordinary or extraordinary expenses and any extraordinary, wasting or liquidating dividends and any dividends payable in the stock of the corporation declaring the dividend or payable in the stock of another corporation and so-called "capital gains dividends" declared by investment companies or investment trusts; to determine if and to what extent they shall amortize any premium paid by them on bonds or other obligations for the payment of money; upon the death of the income beneficiaries or any other termination of the trusts herein, any accrued income (including dividends theretofore declared but not yet payable) shall be paid to the persons entitled to receive the income when it becomes payable, but any undistributed income which the Executors or Trustees may accumulate in their discretion shall be added to principal.

(c) To make any payment or distribution (required or authorised under this Will) either wholly or partly in kind at market value at date of distribution; to cause any share to be composed of cash, property or undivided fractional interests in property different in kind from any other share; the trust for my wife under subdivision (d) of Article SIXTH of this Will shall not be set up out of assets which do not qualify for the Marital Deduction, or which are subject to estate or inheritance taxes imposed by any foreign country or possessions or political subdivisions thereof, or which constitute items of income in respect of a decedent (as said term is defined in Section 691 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 or the comparable provision in force at the date of my death), except to the extent that said trusts cannot be satisfied by other assets.

(d) To alter, repair, improve, demolish, manage, partition, mortgage, lease for any period (including a period in excess of any fixed by statute), exchange, grant options to lease or to buy, and sell or dispose of, at public or private sale and upon such conditions and such terms as to cash and credit as they deem advisable, any of said property; said

leases may extend beyond the duration of the trusts herein and all the powers granted in this subdivision (and granted elsewhere in this Will) may be exercised after the termination of the trusts in connection with the proper administration and distribution thereof.

(e) To borrow such sums as they deem advisable for the proper administration of my estate and to give security therefor.

(f) To continue, settle or discontinue any business or partnership in which I may be interested.

(g) To continue to hold any property, real, personal or otherwise, including but not limited to stocks, bonds or other securities, domestic or foreign, in the form in which it shall be at the time of my death or as the form thereof may be changed pursuant to the provisions of the other subdivisions in this Article of my Will, so long as they, in their absolute discretion, deem it advisable, without regard to the limitations imposed by law on the investment of estate or trust funds.

(h) To invest and reinvest the principal and accumulated income in any property, real, personal or otherwise, including but not limited to stocks, bonds or other securities, domestic or foreign, and shares or interests in investment companies, investment trusts or Common Trust Funds of a bank or trust company, that they may, in their absolute discretion, deem advisable, without regard to the limitations imposed by law on the investment of estate or trust funds.

(i) To employ any person, firm, corporation, bank or trust company for advice with respect to investment policy, but my Executors or Trustees may, in their absolute discretion, follow or refrain from following any recommendations so obtained, and said recommendations shall not in any way limit the discretionary power and authority herein conferred upon them with respect to investments; to employ accountants and bookkeepers; and to charge the fees and expenses of the foregoing to my estate or the trusts herein.

(j) To retain possession, in their absolute discretion, of any property payable absolutely to an infant, and to invest and reinvest the same, to collect the income therefrom, and, after deducting all proper expenses, to apply the income and principal to the use of said infant, with all the powers, rights and compensation of Trustees hereunder, provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent or postpone the vesting of said property in said infant or to suspend the alienability of said property.

(k) In determining the amount of income or principal applicable to the use of an infant, to disregard the ability of the parent or parents of said infant to support said infant; and to make payment of any income or principal, applicable to the use of or payable to an infant, to the guardian (whether qualified in my domicile or any other jurisdiction) of the person or property, or to the parent or parents of such infant, or to the person with whom such infant resides, or to apply the same for his or her benefit; the receipt of such guardian, parent or person, or the evidence of the application of such income or principal shall be a full discharge to said Executors and Trustees for such payment; the parent or the person with whom the infant resides need not be legally appointed his or her guardian; nor shall said guardian, parent or person be obliged to give any accounting for the disposition of said income or principal except upon the written request of the Executors or Trustees hereunder.

(l) To remove any of said property to or from my domicile or any other jurisdiction.

(m) To organize or participate in the organization of corporations, and to transfer to them any part or all of said property in exchange for securities thereof.

(n) To exercise or perform every power, authority or duty, including discretionary powers, by the concurrence and in the names of a majority of the Executors or Trustees qualified to participate, with the same effect as if all had joined therein; but by unanimous vote of the Executors or Trustees they may determine the number (one or more) who may give instructions to custodians, sign checks or have access to safe deposit boxes.

(o) To claim expenses as estate tax or income tax deductions as they deem advisable and to determine if and to what extent any adjustment in favor of principal required by law shall be made.

TENTH: (a) If my wife shall die under such circumstances that it cannot be determined whether I or my wife died first, then, for the purposes of this Will, my wife shall be deemed to have survived me, and my estate shall pass in such manner as would occur hereunder if my wife had survived me. If any other person beneficially interested hereunder shall die in the course of or as a direct result of the same disaster, accident or calamity as shall cause my death or the death of the life beneficiary upon whose death said person's interest is to take effect or under such circumstances that it cannot be readily determined whether I or said person, or the life beneficiary or said person, as the case may be, died first, then, for the purposes of this Will, said person shall be deemed to have died before me or before said life beneficiary, and my estate shall pass in such manner as would occur hereunder if said person had predeceased me or said life beneficiary, as the case may be.

(b) There shall be charged against my residuary estate, without right of reimbursement, all estate and inheritance taxes of whatever kind imposed upon the property disposed of in this Will and upon any other property, including insurance, otherwise disposed of and subject to the imposition of said taxes. However, if my wife survives me, no part of said taxes shall be charged against her trust under subdivision (d) of Article SIXTH of this Will.

(c) Any income or principal payable to a beneficiary hereunder may, in the discretion of my Executors and Trustees, be applied by them for the benefit of said beneficiary.

(d) If my wife survives the probate of my Will, the testamentary power of appointment granted to her in this Will shall be exercisable only by specific reference to this Will.

(e) Any person may renounce, in whole or in part, any provision in his or her favor hereunder and, in such event, the property covered by said provision, to the extent renounced, shall be disposed of as though said person had predeceased me, and if said property is to be held in trust, to the extent renounced, said property shall become free of the trust for said person (and of any power of appointment said person may have with respect thereto) and shall be disposed of as though said person had predeceased me. I do not intend by the foregoing to suggest that any particular person should so renounce.

(f) The LEONIG NEUGASS FOUNDATION is about to be incorporated under the Membership Corporations Law of New York. If for any reason this is not effectuated during my lifetime, I direct my Executors to cause such a charitable foundation of that name to be incorporated within six months after my death.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal this 6 day of July ,
One Thousand Nine Hundred Sixty-Seven.

WHEREAS, under the terms of Article FIFTH of the Will of LUDWIG NEUGASS, deceased, said decedent bequeathed to his daughter, upon the death of his wife, CAROLYN NEUGASS, if his daughter was then living, the life use of all his paintings and other works of art; and

WHEREAS, under the terms of Article FIFTH (a) of said Will his wife may, within six months after the date of decedent's death renounce her life use of any item of his paintings and other works of art, thereby commencing the life use of his daughter; and

WHEREAS, under the terms of Article FIFTH (c) of said Will, his daughter may elect within six months after said decedent's date of death, to take absolute ownership of any item, said election to take effect if and only when her life use has begun.

NOW, THEREFORE, the undersigned does hereby elect to take absolute ownership of the items of paintings and other works of art of the decedent listed on Schedule A annexed hereto, said election to take effect when her life use begins.

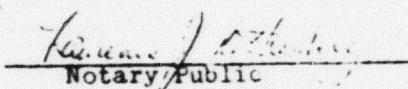

Dated: July 2, 1969.

2                   THE CLERK: All rise please. You may be seated.

3                   The Court is now in session. Docket number 4734-73.

4                   Estate of Ludwig Neugass, deceased, et al. Gentleman,
5                   state your appearances for the record, please.

6                   MR. IMBERMAN: Jacob Imberman and Lawrence J.
7                   Rothenberg for Petitioners.

8                   MR. PHALIN: Michael Kevin Phalin for Respondent.

9                   THE COURT: May we have the opening statements
10                  of the parties?

11                  MR. IMBERMAN: If Your Honor please, the only 12                  issue left in this case is whether or not the estate is 13                  entitled to the benefit of the marital deduction with 14                  respect to that portion of the decedent's art collection
15                  which passed to his wife. It is our contention that the 16                  language of Article 5th of the Will when properly construed
17                  particularly in light of the testimony of the witnesses, 18                  satisfies the requirements of Section 2056 of the Internal 19                  Revenue Code. Because of the uncertainty of New York
20                  law in connection with renunciations, the Will, in form, 21                  gave the widow a life estate in the art work with a right 22                  within six months after the decedent's death to take 23                  absolute ownership. We believe that there is no doubt 24                  that when the widow disclaimed that life interest, and 25                  asserted her right to take the art work outright, that

49a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Petitioners

1 under subdivision D of Section 2056 that action related
2 back through the date of death and it is as if she had 3 received an outright request of the art collection and 4 the property which she received, therefore, qualified for 5 a marital deduction. Now there is no issue of fact as to 6 the subdivision D aspect of the case -- the stipulation
7 adequate covers exactly what happened. And the law will
8 be brief by us after the trial, if Your Honor please. I
9 merely wish to point out now that this case ought not be 10 decided on the technical arguments which the Government
11 has advanced here.

12 THE COURT: Are there any other provisions in 13 Section 2056 which will aid the petitioner other than 2056-D?

14 MR. IMBERMAN: Well, we believe that the entire con-
15 struction of the Will will indicate that it was the decedent's
16 intent not to give his wife a terminable interest and that,
17 in fact, what she received was a bequest which qualified
18 under Section 2056. The fact of the matter is -- the widow
19 did receive the art collection which was the decedent's
20 intent. The collection will be taxed in her estate so
21 that the spirit of the law as far as marital deduction
22 is concerned is certainly met and the only thing that the 23 Government is attempting to accomplish here is in effect
24 a double taxation of this art collection which we believe 25 is a most inequitable result. Now with regard to the

50a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Petitioners

1 construction of Article 5th and our assertion that it
2 does overall comply with the law, we will offer the 3 testimony of the decedent's attorneys which in connection
4 with the proper construction of the Will -- will show that 5 it was the decedent's intent to give his wife an absolute
6 interest in the art collection. That it was only because 7 of the very uncertain status of the law in New York with 8 respect to renunciations that the Will was drafted techni-
9 cally as it was. But what the decedent intended was to 10 give his wife the entire bundle of rights, so to speak.
11 She could have an outright ownership or she could have 12 a life estate if she wished or she could pass it out to 13 charity.

14 THE COURT: What were the uncertainties in 15 New York law that you referred to?

16 MR. IMBERMAN: The uncertainties in New York
17 law dealt with the manner in which one could renounce
18 and the time went -- the renunciation in a testamentary
19 situation as distinguished from a intestacy had to 20 take place. There was uncertainty, for example, as to 21 whether if a widow was given an outright interest in the 22 property, she could renounce to a life estate. And I
23 would prefer to have the witness who is an expert in 24 this area tell Your Honor precisely what the uncertain
25 status of the law was. And I think Your Honor should

Opening Statement on Behalf of Petitioners

1 know that we rely very heavily on the "Tilyou" case which
2 was decided by the Court of Appeals in this circuit less
3 than -- just about two years ago. And the citation is 4 470 F 2nd 693. Now that was also a case involving a marital 5 deduction and whether or not the decedent's will gave his 6 spouse a terminable interest in the property which passed
7 to her. And "Tilyou", Your Honor, may recall the decedent
8 left his spouse his entire estate and then he added a
9 clause which created a problem. He said that "if she dies
10 before she shall become entitled to any part or share of my 11 residuary estate, then it will pass to his children".
12 The Government claimed that that was a terminable interest
13 and, therefore, the estate was not entitled to a marital 14 deduction. Now the Court of Appeals found in that case
15 that the New York law applied and so it does here. And 16 the law -- the Court also found that the law was uncertain
17 as to the meaning of the words "entitled to" and so here
18 the witness that I will put on the stand will demonstrate 19 for Your Honor very clearly that there was also an uncer-
20 tainty in New York law with respect to renunciations. As 21 a matter-of-fact it was clarified to some extent about 22 four years after the Will was draft in 1971 -- a statute
23 for the first time was passed which dealt with this 24 subject.

25 THE COURT: What does that statute provide?

52a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Petitioners

1 MR. IMBERMAN It provides that there may be
2 a renunciation within a particular time and in a particular
3 manner. And to clarify the situation and if Your Honor
4 please, I would prefer to have Mr. Lustgarten explain
5 that precisely to Your Honor. But before that time there
6 was no statute. There was a statute which dealt with 7 renunciation in cases of intestacy. Now also in "Tilyou"
8 the Court took extrinsic evidence from the lawyer who 9 drafted the Will in order to demonstrate to the Court
10 the testator's intent and we ask Your Honor, of course,
11 to do the same thing. Permit the lawyer to testify.
12 And, finally, in "Tilyou" the Court of Appeals held 13 that the uncontrovertible evidence in the case showed 14 that the decedent did not intend to give his wife a
15 terminable interest which is exactly what the evidence
16 will show in this case. And I believe that when Your 17 Honor comes to write the opinion of this case, it would 18 not be inappropriate for Your Honor to be guided by the 19 opinion of the Court of Appeals in this latest statement
20 as to the meaning of terminable interest and the manner
21 in which a Will should be interpreted.

22 THE COURT: Are there any ambiguities in the 23 Will of the decedent?

24 MR. IMBERMAN: Well, it's very difficult, Your 25 Honor, and I think some of the cases that we handed up

53a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Petitioners

1 to you to tell when a will is ambiguous. And there may
2 be an ambiguity in the Will even though at first reading
3 it looks as if its clear because it's always sometimes
4 when you go behind the Will and you look at extrinsic
5 facts that you can see that the Will is ambiguous and here
6 what we are concerned about is to have Your Honor have 7 all of the information, the extrinsic facts
8 concerning the circumstances surrounding the preparation
9 and the execution of this Will. And the New York cases
10 which we have cited to Your Honor, I think very clearly
11 indicate that New York thoughts will take facts -- testimony
12 with regard to facts and circumstances. I'm not talking
13 about a declaration of the decedent but testimony from others
14 whether they are lawyers or trust officers and I might 15 call this sentence to Your Honor's attention in the "Tilyou"
16 case because that was the very thing that the Court had to 17 determine. And at page 69 the Court of Appeals commented 18 on and I would like to quote. "The receptiveness of New 19 York Courts to extrinsic evidence to determine the circum-
20 stances known to the testator when he drew his Will."
21 And the latest expressions of opinion was by the surrogates
22 in New York who deal primarily with Wills every day clearly 23 indicates that extrinsic evidence is permissible in the 24 very beginning in order to demonstrate to the trial of the fact 25 that there is, indeed, some type of ambiguity which

54a

1 should be called to his attention even though it isn't
2 patent on the face of the document.

3 THE COURT: Very well. Mr. Phalin.

4 *** 5 MR. PHALIN: Your Honor, if I first before
6 beginning my opening statement, I formally submit the 7 Stipulation of Facts with Exhibits A and Exhibits 1, 2,
8 3 and 4 attached.

9 THE COURT: Very well. The stipulation has 10 been delivered to the Court and the stipulation together
*** 11 with the enumerated exhibits are in evidence.

12 MR. PHALIN: Secondly, Your Honor, the respondent
13 would request that the Court excuse from the courtroom
14 any potential possible witnesses in this case since the 15 respondent anticipates his remarks in his opening statement, 16 may go to what their anticipated testimony may be if they 17 testify.

18 THE COURT: Very well. The respondent is 19 invoking the rule. If you have witnesses in the courtroom--

20 MR. IMBERMAN: Do you want the witnesses excluded
21 during his opening statement?

22 THE COURT: I beg your pardon?

23 MR. IMBERMAN: I gather that counsel would like 24 to have the witnesses excluded during the course of his 25 opening statement.

26 THE COURT: Yes, that is correct. They may be

55a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1 excused.

2 MR. IMBERMAN: If that's Your Honor's wish, I
3 have never heard of it during an opening statement. I
4 have seen it during testimony, but that's all right. Perhaps
5 the record should note, Your Honor, that Mr. Rosenberg
6 and Mr. Lustgarten have left the room.

7 THE COURT: Very well.

8 MR. PHALIN: Thank you, Your Honor. Your Honor,
9 all the issues in this case with the exception of one
10 have been resolved by the parties. They have either been 11 completely and finally resolved or if not finally resolved
12 as yet, will be finally resolved dependent on the resolution
13 of this one final issue as set forth in the Stipulation of 14 Facts. So the one remaining issue before the Court's 15 decision is as to whether or not a certain property interest
16 passing to the surviving spouse of the testator qualify
17 for the marital deduction. More specifically, in our case
18 the testator had a rather valuable art collection, con-
19 sisting of 55 paintings, 6 bronzes and a number of porcelain.
20 The testator's will provided that upon his death his sur-
21 viving spouse, and this Your Honor is that Article 5th of the 22 Will which is Exhibit 1 in the Stipulation of Facts.
23 The Will provided that upon the testator's death, his 24 wife should have the life use to the entire art collec-
25 tion. Article 5th further providing that the wife --

56a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1 surviving spouse should have a power of appointment to 2 appoint to herself the absolute ownership of any or the 3 entire portion of the art collection within a period of 4 6 months.

5 THE COURT: That provision is not cast in terms
6 of a power of appointment as I understand it. Now you
7 are referring to the language which says that "within 8 six months after the date of my death -- either my wife
9 or my daughter may renounce her life use, thereof, and 10 if both of them so renounce the items shall become the 11 absolute property of the foundation and --"

12 MR. PHALIN: No, Your Honor, I am referring to 13 the following paragraph -- sub-paragraph.

14 THE COURT: All right, now "within six months
15 after the date of my death, either my wife or my daughter
16 may elect to take absolute ownership of any item whereupon
17 said items shall become the absolute property of my wife
18 or my daughter. In the case of my daughter, such election
19 shall take effect if and only when her life use has begun."

20 MR. PHALIN: That is the provision to which I
21 refer, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Yes.

23 MR. PHALIN: The Will further provided that
24 should the wife not elect to take any item of the art
25 collection as her outright property and furthermore should

57a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1       she no longer desire t have the life use of any item --
2       she had the authority to renounce the life use and that
3       life use would then pass to her daughter and if the daughter
4       renounced the life use as well, it will then pass to the 5       foundation.

6                 THE COURT: Well, now, I did not so read the Will.
7       As I understood it-- "within six months after the date of 8       the death of -- my death -- either my wife or my daughter
9       may renounce her life use, thereof, and if both of them 10      so renounce, the items shall become the property of the 11      foundation."

12                MR. PHALIN: That is correct, Your Honor. And 13       the final sub-paragraph -- sub-paragraph C states that 14       "anytime after said six month period, either my wife or 15       my daughter may terminate her life use of any item and 16       thus accelerate with respect to said item the provision
17       otherwise effected upon her death."

18                THE COURT: How would you interpret paragraph B
19       if both the wife and the daughter selected the same item?

20                MR. PHALIN: Well, paragraph B -- the final 21       clause, Your Honor, states that "in the case of my daughter
22       such election shall take effect if and only when her life
23       use has begun." And her life use would not begin as to any 24       specific item in the collection until the wife's life
25       use had expired.

58a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1 THE COURT: From what do you draw that language?

2 MR. PHALIN: From the introductory clause of 3 the Article 5th which directs a life use to the wife and 4 upon her death to the daughter -- the life use. So that
5 with respect to the life use, it went directly to the wife
6 and upon her death or her termination of it, it would go
7 to the daughter.

8 THE COURT: Very well.

9 MR. PHALIN: So these were the provisions of 10 the testator's will. And as it happened, within a six
11 month period after his death, his surviving spouse exercised
12 her power of appointment to herself as expressed in Exhibit
13 2 of the Stipulation of Facts and took outright possession 14 of 49, excuse me, 46 of the 55 paintings -- all 6 of the 15 bronzes and all of the porcelain. And then with respect 16 to the remaining 9 paintings in the art collection, she 17 revoked her life interest and that exercise is found in 18 Exhibit 3 of the Stipulation of Facts. And eventually,
19 as set forth in Exhibit 4 -- the daughter exercised her 20 power of appointment as to the remaining 9 paintings in 21 the collection. So that as a matter-of-fact, the surviving 22 spouse and daughter took the entire collection as their out-
23 right property through their exercises of the respective powers
24 of appointment. The question now before the Court is--whether 25 or not the 46 paintings, 6 bronzes and porcelain taken

59a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1 by the wife through her exercise of her power of appointment
2 qualified for the marital deduction. The petitioner's
3 take the position that, if in fact, it does qualify under 4 these specific provisions of Code Section 2056D. The 5 respondent's position is that it does not so qualify. As 6 stated in our legal memorandum we are at present a bit at a
7 loss to understand petitioner's position here since 2056D
8 treats with disclaimers -- situations where either a survi-
9 ving spouse receives a property interest as a result of a 10 third party's disclaimer of that interest or situations where 11 a third party receives a property interest as a result of 12 a surviving spouse's disclaimer of that interest. Now in 13 a factual situation of this case, we don't -- aren't 14 treating with any property interest which passes to anyone
15 as the result of a disclaimer. The surviving spouse here
16 got the property -- not as a result of anyone else's
17 disclaimer -- even a disclaimer on her own part. She 18 received the property as a result for exercise of a power
19 of appointment. She had been given a life estate with a 20 power. She exercised that power. It appears to the 21 respondent that as a result, 2056D is totally inapplicable.
22 But certainly we were fully prepared to expand upon this
23 and treat it more fully on brief. Hopefully, at that time,
24 we may be further enlightened as a result of the petitioner's
25 brief as to exactly what their position is and what authority

60a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1       they have for it. But the respondent is of the opinion
2       this is the only issue before the case and this is how the 3       case should be submitted and if the respective parties
4       should file their briefs on that specific legal question,
5       i.e., does the proper (sic) received by the surviving spouse
6       qualify for the marital deduction under the provisions of 7       2056D. However --

8                  THE COURT: Well, now I understood the statement 9       a few minutes ago to be to the effect that not only was 10      the petitioner relying on 2056D but also the broader 11      provisions of 2056A.

12                 MR. PHALIN: If that be the case, Your Honor, 13      we would be glad to discuss that on brief as well.

14                 THE COURT: Very well.

15                 MR. PHALIN: At the appropriate time. However,
16      the petitioners have asked leave of the Court to present
17      oral testimony concerning circumstances surrounding the 18      drafting of the Will in question and concerning the 19      expressed intentions of the testator at the time of the 20      drafting of the Will in question. If I may attempt to 21      summarize quickly what that anticipated testimony would 22      amount to -- apparently it is this. That at the time the 23      testator came to his attorneys to have them draft his 24      Last Will and Testament, he expressed to them his inten-
25      tions with respect to his art collection and how it should

61a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1       be disposed of. It is their contention that he expressed
2       to them that his desire was that he wanted his surviving
3       spouse to have the greatest possible flexibility with 4       respect to the art collection. I believe counsel's opening
5       statement used the term "wanted her to have the whole
6       bundle of rights". She could do -- have as many options
7       as possible. But it is more clearly stated in their 8       previously submitted memorandum, I refer to pages 3 and 4
9       of the trial memorandums where they state "the decedent's
10      primary intent was to provide his wife with a maximum 11      number of options with respect to the disposition of his 12      collection." The bottom of page 3 they state "on several 13      occasions the decedent expressed his intention to give 14      his wife the option to take any part or all of the bequest 15      in order to provide her with maximum flexibility." At 16      page 2 of the legal memorandum, they again state "their 17      witnesses will testify that the decedent's overriding
18      interest was to give his wife maximum flexibility with 19      respect to his art collection." This then they said was 20      the intent of the testator. And they obviously conferred
21      with him concerning it. I assume they said "all right, 22      fine, we understand what you want and we'll go ahead and 23      draft it and when we have it drafted, we'll bring it
24      back to you, make sure you understand it and if everything's 25      all right, we'll execute it." They then proceed to the

62a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1 drafting stage. And then they say that the draftors came
2 upon a problem. They were concerned with whether or not
3 the provisions of the will would be operable under New 4 York State law. Specifically they were concerned that if 5 they drafted the Will to give the collection to the surviving 6 spouse outright with the power to renounce it in favor of 7 a lesser interest, namely a like estate, that they were 8 concerned that there was some alleged uncertainty under 9 New York State law whether such a provision would be 10 operative. The respondent has no quarrel with this.
11 Surely every attorney drafting a will should be concerned
12 about whether or not the provisions are going to be oper-
13 able under the appropriate state law. They then contend
14 that the draftors decided that they had better be careful.
15 And, therefore, they would look for another way to draft
16 the Will which would still express the intentions of the 17 testator but would not run into any problems with respect
18 to New York state law. And they came up with an alternate
19 form. The form they decided upon was this. They said, 20 "look, we will give her a life estate -- a life use of 21 the entire collection with the power of appointment
22 exercisable within six months. And then if she wants to 23 take it as her outright property, she can do so. If she 24 only wants a life estate -- she has it. Furthermore, we 25 will put in a provision that if she does not want to take

63a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1 it into her own possession and furthermore, did not want
2 a life use of it, then she can renounce the life use and
3 have it go to charity. Then she has all her options, all
4 the flexibilities the testator desired and with no problem
5 with the New York state law. And, furthermore, it is our 6 opinion that it qualifies for the marital deduction under 7 2056D." All their problems have been solved. They take
8 this draft form back to the testator. And to be sure,
9 they knew exactly how they were drafting it. And, again,
10 they point this out in the memorandum. They refer to 11 page 3 of the trial memorandum. So they state, "the Will 12 was drafted in the form of a life estate with the unquali-
14 of the legal memorandum, "one of the witnesses will 15 further testify that the Will was drafted in its final
16 form because the technical requirement of the New York
17 law relating to renunciations were not clear at that time.
18 In view of the unsettled state of the law the decision
19 was made to utilize a six month provision in testator's
20 Will in order to be certain that any renunciation or 21 election would be valid in a New York law." So they knew
22 exactly what they were doing. They had a very weighty
23 reason for doing what they were doing. But there was no
24 ambiguity or uncleanness as to what they were doing. They 25 knew fully well they were giving her a life estate with

64a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1       a power of appointment. And there was a reason why they
2       wanted to do it that way. They didn't want to have any
3       problems with the New York State law. And, apparently,
4       they were also satisfied that they would not have any 5       problems with the Federal estate tax law either. But at 6       any rate, they take a package back to decedent, explain
7       it to him, say to him, "we think we have exactly what you
8       want -- it gives your surviving spouse exactly the flexi-
9       ability you expressed to us, furthermore, we want to do
10      it this way because it gets around the problem of state
11      law and, furthermore, you don't have to worry about the 12      marital deduction. Because this form will qualify." The 13      testator reads it, says, "it's a nice job -- just exactly
14      what I wanted. She has all the flexibility I intended -- 15      where do I sign?" The testator executes the Will, and 16      later dies. The Will is admitted to Probate, the Circuit
17      Court has no problem interpreting it, since it's exactly
18      what it says, the wife proceeds under the expressed
19      provisions under the Will to execute her power of appoint-20      ment and execute her renunciation of the life estate in 21      the remaining works of art of which she has not appointed 22      to herself. No problem at all. Everybody is happy. How-
23      ever, this then is the testimony which the petitioners
24      ask leave to put before the Court. Now the question is 25      two things. One -- is it admissible, and secondly -- if

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1 admissible, what does it prove? It is the respondent's
2 firm position that it is in no way admissible. Which is
3 where we get into the area of the law concerning when a
4 Court is permitted to receive evidence concerning the 5 surrounding circumstances -- the drafting of a testator's
6 Will, including the testator's intentions. No question
7 that there are occasions when a Court can take such
8 testimony. The rule as to why they don't normally do it
9 is obvious, of course. Because if they did, then you would 10 have a Will that was part-written and part-oral. You would 11 have an endless line of litigants come in and say, "well, 12 regardless of what the Will says, on any number of 13 occasions the testator told me he wanted me to have such-14 and-such." And because that was his intent, I should have 15 it." Obviously, you simply can't function that way. The 16 Courts have said, "if possible, you must draw the testator's
17 intent from his Will, however, there are occasions when 18 the testator's Will may be ambiguous -- or be unclear as 19 to one of three things. One -- who is to get something.
20 Two -- what are they to get, or three -- when are they 21 to get. These are important things because a Circuit
22 Court must administer the Will -- must apply the Will and 23 have to know these things. And if it's not clear in the 24 Will, what better place to look than to any evidence
25 concerning the testator's intent. If that can show them a

66a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1 way to implement the Will. The respondent has no quarrel
2 with that. Of course you, under those circumstances, you
3 can admit testimony as to the testator's intent. However,
4 the testimony which the petitioners want to put before the 5 Court is not testimony as to what his intent was -- as to 6 who he wanted to give something to -- what he wanted to 7 give them or when he wanted them to get it. The Will is 8 in precise conformity with what the intentions were on 9 those three items. He had no quarrel with his wife being 10 the beneficiary. He had no quarrel with her having the 11 option to take an outright or have a life use or renounce
12 the life use. He has no quarrel with when she got it.
13 Their evidence is simply to his intent as to what he wanted
14 the legal consequences to be with respect to Federal 15 estate taxes. All they want to put before the Court is 16 the fact that he wanted the marital deduction. Well,
17 fine, but that's not relevant to our determination. Not 18 a question of what he wanted or what he intended. The 19 question is -- does what he did qualify under the code
20 for that treatment. The petitioners also say and are 21 correct in saying that besides evidence directly of intent,
22 the Courts may also take evidence of surrounding circum-
23 stances. But the only situation of which the Courts are 24 permitted to do that -- is to show that although a Will 25 on its face is clear, when the language of that -- when

67a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

the clear language of 'hatWill is taken in reference to some other extrinsic circumstance, it no longer becomes clear. A very good example is set out in petitioner's legal memorandum where they said -- where they cite a case where the language of the Will was that -- the testator wanted to leave, I believe to a son or daughter, 100 shares of a certain company. Now is it -- which seems clear enough on its face. However, evidence was presented to show that in the period between the drafting of the Will and the testator's death that 100 shares had received stock dividends and stock splits so that at the time of his death, that original 100 shares now represented 250 shares. So obviously, there is a problem for the Circuit's Court. How much is the son or daughter supposed to receive? 100 shares or 250 shares. So that the -- surrounding circumstances are permitted if they will show -- are relevant to show an ambiguity which would not otherwise be disclosed. And once that ambiguity is established, then the Court can again go to the intent of the testator -- if such evidence exists to determine how he would have intended the situation to be handled. But the testimony which petitioners ask to put before the Court does not raise any such ambiguity. The testimony of the surrounding circumstances they want to present, simply establishes the reasons for which they drafted the Will as they drafted

68a

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1           it. But it does not rise any doubt as to what they
2           meant when they drafted it. They still meant to give 3           her all her options. All her bundle of rights -- which 4           they did. The fact that they had some weighty reason for 5           it is of no relevance whatsoever. We would assume that 6           they would have a reason for drafting it the way they
7           drafted it. Hopefully, every lawyer has a good reason
8           for drafting a legal document precisely the way he drafts
9           it. So on this ground, it is our position that the 10          evidence is totally inadmissible because the only conflict 11          that points up is simply the possible contradiction between 12          the actual legal consequences of the Will and the intended
13          legal consequences of the Will. And even there we don't 14          as yet have a real conflict. Because the petitioners
15          may be correct. Maybe the Will as drafted does qualify
16          for the marital deduction.

17           THE COURT: So as you analyze the Will, the 18          decedent gave his widow a life estate plus a general
19          absolute power of appointment.

20           MR. PHALIN: That is correct.

21           THE COURT: It has been some time since I
22          analyzed Section 2056 B5 which deals with the life
23          estate with the power of appointment in the surviving
24          spouse. Is there any particular reason why that section, 25          then, would not fit this case?

Opening Statement on Behalf of Respondent

1                   MR. PHALIN: Yes, Your Honor, there are specific 2 requirements that the power of appointment in order to
3 qualify for the marital deduction must be exercisable
4 throughout the lifetime of the holder of the party. If 5 it's exercised for only a limited period -- it's then only a
6 terminable interest. Because at the end of that limited
7 period, it lapses.

8                   THE COURT: Here in this case the widow is 9 required to exercise the power within six months?

10                  MR. PHALIN: That is correct, Your Honor.

11                  THE COURT: Well, I have -- I have read the 12 briefs submitted by the parties and I have concluded that 13 I should hear the testimony concerning the background
14 facts and the circumstances known to the decedent when 15 the Will was made. I think the issue is a close one 16 and it may very well be that upon consideration of the 17 case, an opportunity to study the precedents that I would 18 conclude that the testimony should not be considered.
19 But I think the most reasonable thing for me to do at 20 this time is to hear the testimony and I don't think that 21 hearing the testimony will so contaminate my mind that I
22 will be unable to reach a fair and reasonable decision
23 in the case if I conclude that it should not be considered
24 in reaching the Court's decision.

25                  MR. PHALIN: Thank you, Your Honor, may I have a

70a

1 moment, please?

2 THE COURT: Yes.

3 MR. PHALIN: Your Honor, could the parties
4 approach the bench, please?

5 THE COURT: Yes.

6 (Off the record)

7 MR. PHALIN: The respondent has nothing further
8 on his opening statement.

9 THE COURT: Very well.

10 MR. IMBERMAN: Your Honor, I would just like to 11 briefly make one or two comments. I don't intend an --
12 extended reply. But I do want to say that opposition
13 is that this is not a power of appointment. I'm not going
14 to argue that -- I think it's much better for everyone
15 concerned if we brief the point to Your Honor. And --

16 THE COURT: Now would you be willing to specify
17 the provisions of Section 2056 that you rely upon. You
18 have mentioned 2056D --

19 MR. IMBERMAN: Yes.

20 THE COURT: -- specifically. Do you rely upon 21 2056A which is the general provision regarding the 22 allowance of the marital deduction?

23 MR. IMBERMAN: Could I consult with my expert
24 on that, Your Honor? 2056A and D, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Very well.

1           THE CLERK:   ould you please stand and raise your
2 right hand? You do solemnly swear that the testimony you
3 are about to give the Court in this case shall be the truth,
4 the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you
5 God?

6           THE WITNESS: I do.

7           THE CLERK: Be seated and state your full name
8 and address for the record, please.

9           THE WITNESS: Alan Rosenberg, 115 Central Park
10 West, New York.

11           ALAN ROSENBERG,
12 called as a witness, having been duly sworn, took the 13 stand and testified as follows:

15 BY MR. IMBERMAN:

16 Q       Mr. Rosenberg, are you a member of the New York
17 Bar?

18 A       I am.

19 Q       When were you admitted to practice in the state?

20 A       1955.

21 Q       And would you please for the record tell us
22 the name of the firm for which you are a member?

23 A       Proskauer, Rose, Goetz and Mendelsohn.

24 Q       And for how long have you been associated with 25 the firm?

1 A Since 1957.

2 Q And how long have you been a member of the firm?

3 A Since 1967.

4 Q Do you specialize in any field of law, Mr.
5 Rosenberg?

6 A Yes, I specialize in the tax field.

7 Q Did you know the defendant, Ludwig Neugass?

8 A I did.

9 Q And in what connection did you first meet him?

10 A I met him when he came in to consult with me
11 concerning his Will.

12 Q And approximately when was that?

13 A It was shortly prior to -- 1967 -- 1966 or 1967.

14 Q And did you meet him at your office?

15 A Yes, I did.

16 Q How many times did you meet with him before the 17 Will was drafted?

18 A I met with him two, three or four times.

19 Q And can you tell the Court whether Mr. Neugass
20 was particularly tax conscious?

21 A He was extremely tax conscious. He had had 22 a considerable amount of tax-oriented planning done at 23 the time we had seen him.

24 Q Yes.

25 A He had, for example, a pension trust that had

1      been set up before the time that we had seen him and he
2      had an insurance trust and it was quite clear that he was 3      very tax-oriented.

4           Q      Uh-huh. Did you have a discussion with Mr.
5      Neugass concerning his estate plan?

6           A      I did.

7           Q      Would you just tell us generally the things that 8      were mentioned during the discussion?

9           A      Well, the discussion --

10          MR. PHALIN: Objection. Your Honor, could we 11        know when and where -- which conference we are talking
12        about. Said he met him two or four times.

13          THE COURT: I sustain the objection.

14          MR. IMBERMAN: Could you tell us when you had 15        these discussions about the estate plan and where they 16        took place?

17          A      They took place in my office and they took place
18        early in 1967.

19          Q      Now could you tell us the discussions of the 20        subject matter of these discussions concerning his estate
21        plan?

22          A      Well, the type of discussion that we had was 23        a general review of all of his assets -- the type of 24        assets he had -- estimates as to the value of the assets
25        that he had and what he wished to do with the assets. In

1 other words, the objec's of his bounty -- where he wanted
2 his assets to go with the idea of formulating a suitable
3 plan for him.

4 Q And did he tell you who the principal objects
5 of his bounty were?

6 A The principal objects of his bounty were his 7 wife and his -- his daughter.

8 Q And was there a discussion with him as to the 9 best way to accomplish the desires which he had?

10 A Well, in our initial discussion he told me what 11 he wished to do and as a result of that discussion, I
12 took the information and then with a thought of discussing 13 it with people in our Estates Department who have the 14 primary function of drafting wills to come up with a suit-
15 able plan for him. He indicated that he had a huge art
16 collection -- the value of which was known or estimated
17 at that time but the value which in the future was uncertain.
18 And he considered this to be a complicating factor in his 19 estate because with respect to the art, how that -- first 20 of all he didn't know whether he wanted it to go to his 21 wife or set up a foundation for it. He thought he had a --
22 huge collection which he might want to keep intact. Now
23 what he told her -- what he wanted to do was get as much
24 flexibility with respect to this art collection as possible.
25 He was concerned that the estate taxes on the art could

1 have it -- could deplete other assets in the estate.

2 So he was concerned that that be very carefully handled.

3 Q And what did you actually do about preparing the 4 Will, if any.

5 A I did not prepare the Will. I discussed it with 6 people in our Estates Department who then prepared the Will.

7 Q Fine, and did you then get it back?

8 A Yes, I did.

9 Q And did you discuss it with Mr. Neugass?

10 A Yes, I did.

11 Q And could you tell me generally what you told
12 him that Will accomplished -- particularly in connection
13 with the art collection.

14 A Well, what I did was -- I went through every 15 provision of the Will and explained how it fit into the 16 purposes as I had understood them and with respect to the 17 art, I told him that the provisions, although complicated,
18 did accomplish what he wanted in that they did give complete
19 flexibility to his wife with respect to the art. That 20 she could take it herself, she could use it herself or 21 if she did not want to have it, she could then -- then the 22 art would be given to his daughter to take if she wanted
23 the art, and if neither one wanted the art, then it could 24 go to a charitable foundation with the idea that under 25 those circumstances, it would go to the foundation free

1 of tax and that the ta on the art would not eat up the 2 rest of the estate which the family needed to live on.

3 Q Was there a discussion with him about the estate
4 taxes that there might be in connection with this Will?

5 A Yes, there was. We pointed out to him that the 6 Will was drafted with the intention of minimizing the 7 taxes to give the widow the full marital deduction so
8 that she would have as much available to her to support
9 her for her life as possible.

10 Q And was this in accordance with the intentions
11 he had communicated to you?

12 A Yes, he was satisfied with the Will. He was 13 satisfied with my explanation of the Will and after the 14 explanation he proceeded to execute it.

15 Q And did he subsequently sign the Will?

16 A Yes, he did.

17 Q I have no further questions.

18 MR. PHALIN: Your Honor, before I begin cross
19 examination, I would like to renew or restate my objection
20 obviously from the testimony of this witness -- what the 21 Will expressed was exactly what the testator expressed 22 to the draftor.

23 THE COURT: Very well, I'll note your objection.

24 MR. PHALIN: Thank you.

2 BY MR. PHALIN:

3 Q Mr. Rosenberg, would you state to the Court
4 what, if any, particular legal education -- legal educational 5 background you have in the tax area?

6 A I graduated from the Columbia Law School and 7 then I have a Masters of Tax Law which I received from 8 N.Y.U.

9 Q Thank you. You've testified that when the Will 10 had been completed -- the drafting had been completed --
11 you went over it.

12 A Yes, I did.

13 Q Is it true that you were satisfied that the 14 Will provided for exactly what the testator had told you 15 he wanted done with the art collection?

16 A Yes.

17 Q No question in your mind that's what he wanted?

18 A That was my understanding and that's what I
19 communicated to him and he was satisfied.

20 Q So that you explained all the provisions to 21 him?

22 A Yes, I did.

23 Q And he was also satisfied with that provided
24 for the art collection exactly in the manner he desired?

25 A Yes, in that what it did was give the wife the

1 complete control of the art collection which is what he 2 wanted.

3 Q Thank you.

4 A So that all decisions with respect to it could
5 be made after his death.

6 Q Thank you. Did you then review the provisions
7 of Article 5th of the Will -- pertaining to the disposition
8 of the art collection with respect to the marital deduction
9 under Federal estate tax laws?

10 A Do you mean -- did I explain the technical --

11 Q No, did you yourself?

12 A No, I did not.

13 Q Were you concerned yourself as to whether or 14 not the provisions concerning the disposition of the 15 art collection would qualify for the marital deduction?

16 A I was not concerned. I anticipated that they 17 would fully qualify for the marital deduction. Let me
18 explain that the Will was prepared by our Estates Depart-
19 ment and --

20 Q But you are the tax expert, aren't you?

21 A I am a tax expert in terms of planning but 22 I'm not an expert in drafting wills.

23 Q Well --

24 A And I did not draft the Will.

25 Q The man who drafted the Will -- is he an expert

1      in Federal tax law?

2      A      Yes, he was.

3      Q      So that -- would it have been his responsibility
4      to review it for estate tax purposes?

5      A      Yes, it would.

6      Q      What then was the purpose of your review?

7      A      Because it was my client. I reviewed it -- the 8      client came in to me -- the client expressed his intentions
9      to me so, naturally, I met with the client to explain
10     to him that the Will covered his intentions and I thought--
11     I told him -- carried out the objectives that he wanted
12     carried out by the Will.

13     Q      And did you tell him also that in your opinion
14     it would qualify for the marital deduction?

15     A      Yes, I did.

16     Q      And what did you base that expression of opinion
17     on?

18     A      On the basis of the fact that the Estate Depart-
19     ment planned the Will and planned it to give the maximum
20     tax savings to him including the marital deduction. I
21     did not independently review the Will in terms of the tax
22     statute. That was not my function.

23     Q      So you merely assumed that it would qualify?
24     You did not as a matter-of-fact satisfy yourself that 25     in your opinion it would.

1 A That's correct.

2 Q Mr. Rosenberg, you testified that you met with 3 the testator from two to four times. Did you make any 4 written record of those interviews?

5 A I customarily make memorandum of interviews and 6 I am sure that there are some memorandums in our files.

7 Q Did you make any other written records concerning
8 his estate tax plan?

9 A I don't recall at this moment. There may be 10 some correspondence to him but I did not review it to 11 see if there was.

12 Q And would they also be in your file?

13 A If there was correspondence, they would be in 14 our files.

15 Q At this time, Your Honor, we request that that 16 file be made available to respondent to review and the 17 record held open to continue cross examination of this 18 witness upon completion of that review.

19 MR. IMBERMAN: If Your Honor please, I object
20 to counsel's request for a wholesale right to rummage
21 through our files. But if specific documents are requested
22 and Your Honor feels that those specific documents are 23 appropriate for review, why, I will be glad to look through 24 the files, but I don't think it's right for him to say,
25 "show me your file".

1           THE COURT: Well. Let's handle the matter this
2 way. Mr. Phalin, you proceed with your cross-examination
3 to the extent that you feel that you can at this time.
4 And I would ask that the memoranda of interviews prepared
5 by counsel at the time you talked with the decedent together
6 with correspondence with the decedent regarding the inter-
7 pretation and application of the Will be made available to 8 counsel for the respondent for examination. It seems to 9 me that enough time has lapsed here to where that that 10 correspondence would be a much more reliable guide as 11 to the advice which was given and perhaps the recollection
12 of the witness unless the witness reviewed that correspon-
13 dence in advance. And as I understood his testimony to 14 be that he did not review the letters. Now I'm not sure 15 that he was asked did he review the memoranda which he 16 prepared. Did you review the memorandum --

17           THE WITNESS: Yes, I did.

18           THE COURT: -- in advance of your testimony
19 this morning?

20           THE WITNESS: Yes, I did.

21           THE COURT: Very well. So your testimony reflects
22 the contents of those memoranda?

23           THE WITNESS: Well, the memoranda, of course,
24 did not include all of the discussions that we had. It
25 was just more or less as a guide to the people in our

1 Estates Department for preparing the Will. There is a lot
2 more that does not reflect in that and there were several 3 conversations with people in the Estates Department with 4 respect to preparing the Will.

5 THE COURT: Since he reviewed the memoranda
6 in preparation for his testimony, it seems to me that 7 the memoranda should be produced.

8 MR. PHALIN: Thank you, Your Honor. And for 9 present purposes, Your Honor, I've gone as far as I can 10 with cross examination at this time.

11 THE COURT: Very well.

12 MR. IMBERMAN: We couldn't get the memoranda
13 down here, Your Honor, until this afternoon.

14 MR. PHALIN: I would suggest, Your Honor, that 15 we go ahead with the next witness and see what additional 16 problems may arise with that witness and then we can 17 handle it all at once.

18 MR. IMBERMAN: I have no objection to that. I
19 take it that you are finished with your cross examination
20 subject to anything you may find in the memoranda?

21 MR. PHALIN: That is correct.

22 MR. IMBERMAN: Very well.

23 THE COURT: It's possible that on reviewing 24 the memoranda, it will not be necessary to cross-examine 25 the witness further. It may be --

1 MR. IMBERMAN Fine.

2 MR. PHALIN: That is correct, Your Honor.

3 MR. IMBERMAN: All right, you may step down.

4 THE WITNESS: Do you want me to step out?

5 MR. IMBERMAN: Your Honor, since the witness
6 has finished with his testimony, can he sit in the court-
7 room?

8 MR. PHALIN: There is a possibility he may be 9 recalled, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: In view of the fact that he may be 11 recalled, I believe it would be appropriate for him to 12 leave the courtroom.

13 THE CLERK: Raise your right hand. You do
14 solemnly swear that the testimony you are about to give 15 the Court in this case shall be the truth, the whole
16 truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

17 THE WITNESS: I do.

18 THE CLERK: Be seated and state your full name
19 and address for the record, please.

20 THE WITNESS: My name is Ira H. Lustgarten.
21 L-u-s-t-g-a-r-t-e-n. I reside at 200 Glendale Road,
22 Scarsdale, New York.

23 IRA H. LUSTGARTEN,
24 called as a witness, having been duly sworn, took the
25 stand and testified as follows:

2 BY MR. IMBERMAN:

3 Q Mr. Lustgarten, you are an attorney admitted to 4 practice in New York?

5 A I am.

6 Q And when were you admitted?

7 A 1958.

8 Q And are you a graduate of the Columbia Law
9 School?

10 A I am.

11 Q And did you graduate that same year?

12 A Yes, I did.

13 Q Could you please tell us for the record the 14 name of the firm with which you are associated?

15 A For the years from 1958 through 1968, I was 16 associated with the firm of Proskauer, Rose, Goetz and 17 Mendelsohn, and I became a member of that firm in 1968.

18 Q Are you still are a member?

19 A Yes, I am.

20 Q Now, Mr. Lustgarten, could you please tell us
21 briefly what you have done since graduating from law
22 school in 1958 and the practice of law with particular
23 emphasis on your specialty in estate law?

24 A Well, from about 1970 to the present, I have 25 been involved principally in estate planning, estate

1 administration, pardon me, and in the law generally
2 involving philanthropic organizations. I am currently
3 on the faculty at the Columbia Law School where I lecture
4 in Estate Administration. I am a member of the committee
5 on Trust Estates in the Circuit Court of the Association
6 of the Bar of the City of New York, am a member of the 7 Executive Committee of the Trust and Estate Section of 8 the State Bar Association. I am a fellow of the American
9 College of Probate Counsel. I am on the Legacy Development
10 Committee of Columbia University -- I lecture for the 11 Practicing Law Institute and that's about it.

12 Q Mr. Lustgarten, did you have any thing to do
13 with the preparation of the Will of Ludwig Neugass?

14 A I did.

15 Q Could you tell the Court -- first of all, with 16 whom did you have your original contact in connection
17 with the preparation of that Will?

18 A Mr. Rosenberg.

19 Q And could you tell us generally what Mr. Rosen-
20 berg told you with regard to the assets of Mr. Neugass
21 and what he wanted done.

22 A Mr. Rosenberg described in general terms his --
23 specifically -- where he knew specifics the nature of Mr.
24 Neugass' assets. He told me that there were various 25 securities, various business interests -- that there was

1 an art collection which was difficult to value on the 2 basis of the information available at that time. He told
3 me that Mr. Neugass had a wife and a daughter -- the 4 daughter had children. He described Mr. Neugass' interest
5 in doing as best he could by his wife who was the primary
6 object of his bounty and his daughter, of course, was the 7 lesser object, gradual and coming behind that. He told 8 me that we wanted to have a Will which would qualify for 9 the marital deduction. He told me that Mrs. Neugass had 10 been ill and that the status of her health was uncertain.
11 He told me that to the extent possible, we should strive
12 for the maximum flexibility in the estate plan consonant
13 with the law of New York and the provisions of the Internal 14 Revenue code.

15 Q Was -- are you finished?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And was this discussion with regard to flexibility
18 specifically in connection with the art collection?

19 A Basically, yes. The idea was that -- at this 20 time Mr. Neugass was pretty much up in the air with 21 regard to the art collection. He, as described to me, 22 did not know the extent to which, if at all, he might 23 be making charitable contributions of the art during his 24 lifetime. He wanted -- if this question was not resolved --

25 MR. PHALIN: Your Honor, I would like to raise

1 an objection here --

2 THE WITNESS: Okay.

3 MR. PHALIN: -- based on hearsay since the witness
4 said that he did not talk directly with the testator and 5 he is testifying as to what Mr. Rosenberg told him and Mr.
6 Rosenberg has already testified.

7 THE COURT: As I understand it, he is summarizing
8 the instructions which he received from Mr. Rosenberg
9 concerning the preparation of the Will.

10 MR. IMBERMAN: That is correct, sir.

11 THE COURT: I'll overrule the objection.

12 THE WITNESS: Not knowing whether the art or 13 the disposition of the art would be resolved by him
14 during his lifetime, the instructions that I received
15 were to provide that Mrs. Neugass would be -- have all
16 of the options that he had during his lifetime vis-a-vis
17 the art collection. The options that I discussed with 18 Mr. Rosenberg were her taking the entire art collection, 19 her having a life estate in the art with remainder to 20 charity which under the law as it existed before the 21 '69 Tax Reform Act was perfectly all right. Her being 22 able to disclaim and then give the same sort of options to 23 her daughter with the ultimate charitable beneficiary
24 being a foundation that either -- had just then been 25 organized or about to be organized. I don't recall which.

1                   MR. IMBERMAN: May I have a copy of that stipulation?
2                   Mr. Lustgarten, I have put in front of you a copy
3                   of the Will of Mr. Neugass and I ask you to look at Article 4                   5th in particular and to tell us why the article was 5                   drafted in this particular manner. And in answering,
6                   would you please focus on why the Will did not give Mrs.
7                   Neugass the art collection outright with the right to 8                   renounce any part of it and why did you put the six-month 9                   provision in Article 5th -- during which time at or the 10                  six-month period after Mr. Neugass' death during which 11                  time his widow could renounce the life estate and elect 12                  to take outright ownership?

13                  MP. PHALIN: Objection, Your Honor, I don't think 14                  it has been established that this witness did, in fact, 15                  put any provision into this will.

16                  THE COURT: Did you draft the Will?

17                  THE WITNESS: I did, Your Honor.

18                  THE COURT: Very well. I will overrule the 19                  objection.

20                  MR. IMBERMAN: Thank you, Your Honor. I apologize
21                  for not having asked that preliminary question.

22                  A      In order to respond to your question concerning 23                  Article 5th, I think it's necessary to review just very,
24                  very briefly the State of New York law in 1967 when this 25                  was being done. The Courts had held and the citations

1 are available but basically in Hardenbergh, I suppose,
2 that -- you could not renounce an intestate share without 3 making a taxable gift because an intestate share was 4 deemed to have vested on death unless there was some state
5 law which provided for renunciation procedure. It certainly 6 was the law of New York that somehow or other you could
7 renounce a testamentary disposition and in a testamentary
8 disposition where there was a renunciation, there was not 9 a taxable gift and that had been determined, I guess in 10 Brown against Rutzahn. In 1964, the New York legislature
11 -- responded to this line of cases by adopting 12 decedent estate law, section 87A which subsequently was 13 "recodified" as part of the estates powers and trust
14 law of New York as Section 4-1.3. That dealt with 15 renunciation of intestate shares and in DEL 87A and its 16 successor statute, there was provided a mechanics for 17 such renunciation which included a time frame within 18 which renunciation had to be accomplished -- which was 19 six months from the grant of letters of administration.
20 As to the renunciation of testamentary provisions at that 21 period, there was no clear law in New York as to a variety
22 of things. It was unclear what constituted a timely
23 renunciation whether you could have a partial renunciation
24 either quantitatively or qualitatively and quantitatively I
25 mean renouncing a portion of a bequest or a portion of

1 a will -- take this but leave that and so on. That was
2 unclear. It was also unclear whether you could renounce
3 qualitatively -- renouncing a fee interest to a lesser
4 interest to a life estate, for example. Now the renunciation
5 situation with regard to testate matters remained unclear
6 until 1971. In 1971, the legislature adopted EPL 3-3.10.
7 And even though that was adopted in '71, supposedly to 8 clarify the law of testate renunciation, it was still 9 a troubled and unsettled area in New York with the Circuits.
10 certainly in wide variance between various counties as 11 to the way it works. But the point I would make is that 12 where as EPL 4-1.3 was adopted to create a right -- the 13 right to renounce an intestacy -- EPL 3-3.10 was created
14 to clarify a right that everybody knew existed but didn't 15 know how to cope with it. With that background, I will 16 go on to answer your question. As to why the Will did
17 not provide outright request with the right to renounce --
18 it was because it was not at all certain that renunciation,
19 as such, could be had in a testate situation with regard 20 to a portion of the collection. One of the options that 21 it was sought to leave with Mrs. Neugass was the option
22 to have a life estate with remainder to charity. In part,
23 this was because of the -- well, I then understood to 24 be the tenuous nature of her health. And it was also 25 unclear, as I said, whether you could renounce from a fee to a lesser possessory estate. However, in terms of election, all of this renunciation law didn't come in to -- to bother the plan. And it seemed to me at the time, and still does, that there -- it is much akin to being offered an apple and an orange. And you can say, "here's an apple and an orange. Take one or the other of them. And if you take the apple, you are rejecting, disclaiming, renouncing the orange" --if you are limited to one choice or the other. It is for that reason that the art collection was not left outright with a power of renunciation because we didn't know where that would lead to under the law of New York. The six-month provision is clearly derived from what was then the only indicia of renunciation, disclaimer of election or what have you -- that there was in the State of New York. All that then existed was the statute that had been adopted in 1964 which said that if you were going to do this -- you had to do it within six months after the grant of letters of administration. Parenthetically, I would note that when in 1971 the law was clarified as to testate renunciation for whatever reason they put in a one-year period from the date of letters testamentary or the date the Will is admitted to Probate. Now the six months from the letters of administration, obviously, could have been longer and almost always certainly have been longer than six months from

1       the date of death. And there is a provision in 2056 B3
2       of the Internal Revenue code which imports a -- you can 3       provide for a survivorship of up to six months from the 4       date of death and still qualify for the marital deduction.
5       This is in very general terms but I am certain everybody
6       in this room is familiar with the substance of the provision.
7       And so given six months under the New York law as the most 8       analogous time period given the starting point of date of 9       death under the most analogous provision of the Internal 10      Revenue code. The time that was set forth in this instru-
11      ment was six months from date of death.

12           Q       And -- did the Will as drafted by you as far
13      as you are concerned comply with all of the instructions
14      that you had received from Mr. Rosenberg? As to what 15      your --

16           A       I certainly believe that it did, sure.

17           Q       -- including giving the widow this flexibility
18      and the right to have everything including the outright
19      provision?

20           A       It was my understanding and what I was attempting 21      to do that we were giving her the whole -- to use the 22      law school phrase -- bundle of rights and the bundle
23      of sticks.

24           Q       While at the same time giving the estate the 25      marital deduction?

1       A     Yes, or ever conceivably had she so gave that 2 way a charitable deduction after her life estate -- had 3 that been the way it worked out.

4       Q     I have no further questions.

6       BY MR. PHALIN:

7       Q     Mr. Lustgarten, I take it you hold yourself
8 out as an expert in New York State Probate law.

9       A     To the extent permitted by the cannons of 10 ethics, I suppose.

11      Q     You also hold yourself out as an expert in 12 Federal tax law?

13      A     Generally, no. In the area of estate tax law, 14 gift tax law, judiciary income tax, the law having to 15 do with private foundations, I suppose, yes, but certainly 16 not in corporate partnership or other areas.

17      Q     What is your educational background with 18 respect to Federal tax law?

19      A     Well, I attended the Columbia Law School. I
20 took most of the courses then available at the law school
21 in this general area.

22      Q     What courses were those, sir?

23      A     Gee, I really don't remember. I know I took 24 a tax course. I certainly took an awful lot of estate
25 courses. I know that I took an awful lot of real property

1 courses to the extent that I was in any area of the law
2 that is generally denominated as "estates". I suppose I
3 could go back and dig out a transcript and identify the 4 particular courses but I really don't know. From the 5 time of graduation until this time, I have certainly
6 attempted by attending all the various fora, PLI seminars,
7 work shops, estate discussion groups and so on that I
8 could get to and by reading the materials, I guess, to 9 keep myself apprised of this. This year I will deliver --
10 or be a part of a four-person work shop panel in New York
11 and New Orleans on planning for the large estate and I
12 guess somebody who selected me for that has some -- feel 13 that I do know the area.

14 Q Now am I correct in assuming that you do not 15 have any graduate educational experience in Federal tax
16 law?

17 A That is absolutely correct.

18 Q Would you state to the Court what your relation-
19 ship in the firm was to Mr. Rosenberg to the time he 20 drafted the will in question.

21 A I was an associate in the firm who had been 22 there, let's see, for nine years at that time. I believe
23 that Alan had become a member of the firm a year or so 24 before but I'm not sure. I think he was a member of 25 the firm at that time.

1           Q     And you worked in different departments -- in 2     different areas?

3           A     Yes.

4           Q     What was he doing?

5           A     He is in the Tax Department.

6           Q     And what was your area?

7           A     The Estates Department.

8           Q     Did you do any amount of legal research preparation
9     for the drafting of the will?

10          A     I can't recall. My -- my recollection would 11     be no, but I can't recall.

12          Q     Well, I -- you have gone to some extent about 13     this complex problem of New York State law. Did that 14     not require some research?

15          A     Much of that required discussion with my seniors
16     in the department and a general knowledge that this was 17     a matter of concern. I think probably that there was 18     research done in the office in the area of renunciation
19     and, perhaps, other estate planning or estate administration
20     contacts. But I couldn't say that any was done that was 21     specific to Ludwig Neugass. And it would be my recollection 22     that this was a matter of discussion with people who had,
23     perhaps, looked into it. The things that I had heard in 24     discussions in the office and outside of the office among 25     lawyers who were concerned with this problem -- but I don't

1 recall any research being done specific to the planning
2 of Mr. Neugass' estate.

3 Q What did you then do -- just sit down and draft
4 it?

5 A Of course. I sat down and did a first draft.
6 And then I did a second draft and a third draft and many
7 other drafts. And the drafts were read by various people.
8 And comments were made. And this is the process.

9 Q Well, who besides Mr. Rosenberg reviewed your 10 work?

11 A I am certain that other people because of our 12 procedures internally in the firm read the Will because 13 right now it is our office practice and always has been 14 our office practice that a partner has to review these 15 documents. So some partner, and I couldn't say who -- 16 other than Mr. Rosenberg, reviewed the document because 17 at that time I wasn't a member of the firm. I couldn't 18 say who did it because I don't believe that we keep any 19 sort of checklists as to who has seen every document.
20 But I know at that time in my life, it would have had 21 to have been reviewed.

22 Q Is it also true that you did not do any original
23 research with respect to whether or not the provisions
24 of the Will qualified for the marital deduction under 25 Federal estate tax law?

1           A    Are you talking about with regard to this
2 particular Will?

3           Q    In regard to this particular Will.

4           A    It is likely to be true, yes.

5           Q    That you did not do any research.

6           A    That is likely to be true.

7           Q    Did you satisfy yourself that, in fact, in your 8 opinion the provisions would qualify for the marital 9 deduction?

10          A    Obviously, I satisfied myself and others or 11 else the Will would not have been executed in accordance 12 with our procedures from the office because it wasn't 13 only a question of satisfying myself -- it was a question
14 of satisfying my seniors. And I think, certainly, all 15 of us had to before the document was sent out for 16 execution or was executed had to be satisfied -- that it
17 would qualify for the marital deduction or else the document
18 wouldn't have been drawn that way.

19          Q    Well, what I'm asking, sir, would that have been 20 one of your fundamental responsibilities to insure that 21 it did qualify or did someone else, upon review, consider 22 that matter?

23          A    No, it would have been my responsibility and 24 whoever was reviewing the instrument. And I can't say
25 that either one of us would have had a primary responsibility.

1 Q And you are aying that having drafted it -- it
2 simply appeared to you upon a reading that it would qualify?
3 Based on your general knowledge, I take it, of Federal 4 estate tax law.

5 A It was drafted in such a way that it would
6 qualify in our opinion. It's not a question of -- I
7 drafted it and then read it and decided whether it would 8 qualify or not.

9 Q What was that opinion based on?

10 A What was that opinion based on?

11 Q Yes, sir.

12 A The opinion was based upon what I understood to 13 be the provisions of the Federal tax law as applicable
14 in the State of New York because of this renunciation
15 situation I described.

16 Q But I take it, generally speaking, you didn't 17 go to research it out.

18 A As far as the renunciation in this case, no.

19 Q As far as whether or not it would qualify for 20 the marital deduction.

21 A Well, today I will draw a Will and it will say,
22 "I leave my entire estate outright to my wife." I'm 23 convinced that will qualify for a marital deduction and 24 I don't intend to do any research on it.

25 Q What if you have a Will with a provision as

1 complex as Article 5th of the Will in front of you. Would 2 you assume off of the top of your head that that would 3 qualify?

4 A No, I would not.

5 Q Did you at the time you drafted it?

6 A No, I did not.

7 Q What then did you base your opinion that it did
8 meet the requirements of the code? .

9 A You are saying, I think you're putting the cart
10 before the horse because what you're saying is -- there 11 was --

12 Q Please, Mr. Lustgarten, just answer the question.

13 MR. IMBERMAN: Now just a moment, let the 14 witness answer, sir.

15 THE COURT: Let him answer the question.

16 THE WITNESS: Well, I think that there's implicit
17 in your thing that there is a document and then you looked 18 at the document and said -- does this qualify or doesn't 19 this qualify -- which is not the way this is done. The 20 document is drawn in such a way so that in the belief and 21 best efforts of the draftsman, it does qualify. The docu-
22 ment then is looked at by other people. It has been a
23 subject of conversation. Does -- if you are suggesting 24 that it is then to be sent out for research -- the answer
25 is -- no, it wasn't.

1                   MR. PHALIN: Mr. Lustgarten, I would like to 2                   know -- what were your best efforts at that time? What 3                   did you do?

4                   A        My best efforts at that time were to within the 5                   law as I understood it to be -- both Federal and New York
6                   law -- to get into this Will the intent of the testator
7                   and the marital deduction or alternatively, the charitable 8                   deduction.

9                   Q        Let's approach it another way, Mr. Lustgarten.
10                  Did you go and try to find a case involving a provision 11                  similar or identical to this one that was held to qualify
12                  for the marital deduction?

13                  A        I don't recall doing that.

14                  Q        You don't recall doing that? Did you go to 15                  the statute and find language which led you to believe 16                  that these provisions would qualify?

17                  A        I don't specifically recall it but I do know
18                  that at that time I was familiar with the provisions
19                  of Section 2056.

20                  Q        Did you go to the regulations and find the 21                  language which told you --

22                  A        I don't --

23                  Q        -- or which led you to believe that would qualify?

24                  A        I don't specifically recall it but at that time
25                  I was familiar with the regulations under Section 2056.

1 Q Did you have any discussion with Mr. Rosenberg
2 as to whether or not the provisions would qualify for the
3 marital deduction?

4 A I don't recall any specific discussion with 5 him as to that.

6 Q Would you please state to the Court what your 7 opinion is today as to whether or not those provisions
8 meets the requirements -- for the marital deduction
9 treatment.

10 A My opinion is that they do.

11 Q And on what do you base that opinion?

12 A My understanding of the law, if you would like
13 the -- if you would like to see this, I am certain you
14 will see it in the post-trial brief.

15 Q What section of the code do you believe entitles
16 those provisions to be treated -- the marital deduction?

17 A 2056.

18 Q And what specific part of 2056?

19 A I would suppose if I were limited, and I am
20 certainly not going to limit myself to a specific part --
21 it would be 2056D.

22 Q Now are you familiar with the expressed provisions
23 of 2056D?

24 A In the regulations?

25 Q I take it you refer to code.

1           A     Yes. Well, kay, in the code -- yes.

2           Q     What language in 2056D do you believe encompasses
3     the provisions in this Will?

4           A     Would you like to furnish me with a copy of the 5     Internal Revenue code?

6           MR. IMBERMAN: Your Honor, may I just -- may I
7     object to --

8           THE COURT: Yes --

9           MR. IMBERMAN: -- the line of questioning at 10   this time.

11          THE COURT: -- I'll sustain the objection.

12          MR. PHALIN: Your Honor, the witness is testifying 13   as an expert in the area of Federal estate tax law. He 14   has expressed his opinion that the provisions of the Will 15   qualify for marital deduction. The respondent is certainly 16   entitled to ask him what basis he had for that opinion.
17   And specifically what basis he has.

18          MR. IMBERMAN: If Your Honor please, it seems 19   to me the ultimate determinate of whether it does or 20   doesn't qualify is Your Honor. And although the witness
21   has testified originally about the facts and circumstances
22   surrounding the Will and why he put this specific language
23   in it -- seems to me counsel is going much too far in 24   the area of cross-examination.

25          THE COURT: I'll sustain the objection.

1           MR. PHALIN: Mr. Lustgarten, why couldn't you
2 have drafted the Will at that time simply to give the 3 collection outright to the wife -- without bothering
4 with the right to renounce. What difference does it make
5 whether she could renounce? Once she gets it -- can't 6 she do anything she wants to with it?

7           A     Yes, she certainly can except, perhaps, reserve
8 a life estate on it and have it -- have it be her decision
9 that she -- and get the charitable deduction. No question
10 about it. Except for the reservation of a life use, yes, 11 she could take it with one hand and give it away with the 12 other hand. Certainly.

13           Q     Of course, what was the problem?

14           A     Could she have reserved the life use at that 15 time?

16           Q     Would it have been necessary for her to reserve
17 the life use?

18           A     Perhaps, she would have wanted to preserve the 19 life use.

20           MR. IMBERMAN: If Your Honor please, I think 21 counsel is now arguing with the witness.

22           THE WITNESS: Look, nothing is -- nothing is 23 necessary.

24           MR. PHALIN: Your Honor, if I may have one more
25 question.

1           THE COURT: Yes.

2           MR. PHALIN: And I think it will --

3           THE COURT: Very well.

4           MR. PHALIN: -- make the area relevant. Isn't 5         it true that if one receives outright ownership of 6         property pursuant to a Will, that once that interest
7         vests, the person can do whatever they wish with it --
8         they can then carve out the life estate on their own and 9         leave the remainder to whomsoever they choose?

10          A       Yes, that's true.

11          MR. IMBERMAN: I object on the grounds that it's 12         argumentative, if Your Honor please, and totally irrelevant.
13         It's improper cross.

14          THE COURT: Well, the question has been answer.

15          THE WITNESS: And the answer is -- yes, that 16         is true.

17          MR. PHALIN: Then why wasn't -- why couldn't
18         this have been done? What was the great concern here
19         that got you into this state -- this problem in New York
20         State law?

21          MR. IMBERMAN: If Your Honor please, I think the 22         witness has answered he was following the instructions
23         he was given and what counsel is now trying to do is argue 24         with the witness as to why he did something -- in accordance 25         with his instructions.

1           THE COURT: Well, I'll allow him to answer the
2 question.

3           THE WITNESS: Would you restate it, please?

4           MR. PHALIN: If, in fact, the wife could have 5 taken the collection outright and then if she so desired,
6 carved out the life estate and left the remainder to whomso-
7 ever she chose -- why was there such a problem concerning 8 how to draft the Will?

9           A       The -- my recollection is -- at the time that 10 this Will was being prepared -- her health was precarious.
11 If this had been left -- from the way this is set up --
12 she could have gotten the life estate, have been well
13 enough to take it down somewhere -- but -- and this is 14 only on recollection -- this would have provided her 15 enjoyment since the basic thing -- the first thing she 16 got was the life estate with the remainder going over to 17 charity. So that she would have had the life use of this 18 property with remainder to charity if she were not in a 19 posture to disclaim the life use and take it all. That 20 is my recollection. I would be happy to try and bolster
21 it by a search of my files but that's my recollection.

22          Q       What do you have, Mr. Lustgarten, by the way of 23 files with respect to the drafting of this Will?

24          A       For every client there is a Will file -- in that 25 Will file would be such memoranda and correspondence as

1 relates to that particular client.

2 Q And that file is still in existence?

3 A As far as I know.

4 Q At this time. Your Honor, I would ask that that 5 file be produced and the respondent be given an opportunity
6 to review it and the record left open to resume cross-
7 examination of the witness, if necessary.

8 MR. IMBERMAN: If Your Honor please, I have the 9 same objection with regard to counsel rummaging through 10 our files. But if there is a memoranda that the witness
11 made with regard to the drafting of the Will or if there 12 are letters that he wrote to the decedent -- those we 13 would be glad to produce.

14 THE COURT: Very well. They will be produced
15 and made available to counsel.

16 MR. IMBERMAN: Yes, sir.

17 THE COURT: Very well. Suppose we take just a
18 brief recess here for the reporter to change the tape.

1           AFTERNOON SESSION

2           2:00 P.M.

3           THE CLERK: Be seated. The Court is now in 4 session.5           MR. IMBERMAN: If Your Honor please, at the 6 time we adjourned, Mr. Lustgarten was on the stand. And 7 I'm not sure whether the respondent's counsel is through 8 with his cross-examination of Mr. Lustgarten or whether 9 he still wants to cross-examine. It seems to me if he 10 still wants to cross-examine, perhaps, we ought to put 11 Mr. Lustgarten back on the stand.12           MR. PHALIN: Your Honor, the respondent intends 13 to complete cross-examination as to both witnesses -- which 14 goes first is really immaterial.

15           THE COURT: Does it matter to you?

16           MR. IMBERMAN: No, I was just thinking of how the 17 record is going to look.18           THE COURT: Well, suppose we get the other 19 witness then and take his testimony -- complete his testi-
20 mony and then we'll bring this witness back to the stand.

21           MR. IMBERMAN: Okay.

22           THE COURT: You may proceed.

23           MR. PHALIN: Your Honor, I would like to state
24 for the record that during our recess, the respondent has 25 been supplied with fourteen separate documents from the

1 petitioners files -- c file files -- relating to the 2 drafting of the Will here in question.

3 MR. IMBERMAN: I think the documents speak for 4 themselves, Your Honor. I tried to give counsel whatever
5 I thought was reasonably relevant.

6 THE COURT: Very well.

7 MR. PHALIN: At this time, Your Honor, the
8 respondent would like the following two documents marked
9 for identification -- Exhibits B and C respectively for 10 identification.

11 THE CLERK: Your Honor, Respondent's Exhibits
12 B and C are marked for identification.

13 THE COURT: Very well.

14 MR. PHALIN: I am now furnishing petitioner's
15 counsel copies of Exhibits B and C for identification.

16 MR. IMBERMAN: Which is which?

17 MR. PHALIN: The document dated June 8, 1967,
18 is Exhibit B and the document dated June 9, 1967, is 19 Exhibit C.

20 IRA LUSTGARTEN (resumed)

23 Q Mr. Lustgarten, I place before you Exhibit B
24 and C for identification. Would you please identify them
25 for the Court.

1       A     Exhibit B, I take it, yes, Exhibit B is a memoran-
2 dum dated June 8, 1967, Re: Ludwig Neugass - Will to Mr.
3 Rosenberg from me showing cc: Mr. Looker. It has my 4 initials in the upper left hand corner and the initials
5 of the woman who was then my secretary.

6       Q     And that's as to both documents?

7       A     I'm sorry. Exhibit C is a memorandum dated
8 June 9, 1967, Re: Ludwig Neugass - Will, to Mr. Rosenberg
9 from me, again it has my initials and my secretary's initials
10 in the upper left hand corner.

11      Q     Now if you would please, would you read over 12 the contents of those documents to yourself.

13      A     All right.

14      Q     Now, Mr. Lustgarten, those two documents are the 15 only two documents furnished to respondent which bear
16 your name. Do you have any recollection of having prepared
17 any other written memoranda relevant to your preparation
18 and drafting of the Will of the testator?

19      A     No, I don't. Are those the only -- I accepted
20 those are the only ones that bear my name, but I have no
21 recollection that those are the only ones.

22      Q     Specifically, do you have any recollection of 23 having prepared a written memorandum discussing the 24 rather complex legal problem under New York State law
25 to which you testified at some length earlier this morning.

1           MR. TIMBERMAN I object to the form of the 2 question, if Your Honor please.

3           THE COURT: I'll overrule the objection. The 4 answer is --

5           THE WITNESS: I have no such recollection.

6           MR. PHALIN: Do you have any recollection of 7 having prepared a written memorandum with reference to 8 whether or not the provisions of Article 5th of the drafted
9 Will would comply with the requirements for the marital 10 deduction under Federal estate tax law?

11          A      I have no such recollection.

12          Q      Mr. Lustgarten, do you recall whether or not 13 you received any written instructions from Mr. Rosenberg
14 as to how you were to draft the testator's Will?

15          A      I know that there was a memorandum -- I don't 16 think it was addressed to me. I know that I, undoubtedly,
17 saw that memorandum. I don't know whether it was given to 18 me by him or given to me by somebody else.

19          Q      At this time, Your Honor, I wish to have the 20 following document marked for identification as Respondent's
21 Exhibit D for identification. I am now furnishing the 22 petitioner's counsel with a copy of Respondent's Exhibit D
23 for identification.

24          THE CLERK: Your Honor, Respondent's Exhibit D
25 is marked for identification.

1           THE COURT:  Very well.

2           MR. PHALIN:  Mr. Lustgarten, I have now placed
3 before you Respondent's Exhibit D for identification.  Would 4 you please identify it for the record.

5           A       This is a memorandum dated May 11, 1967, pardon
6 me, from Mr. Rosenberg to Mr. P. J. Hirsh with copies show
7 to Mr. W. H. Freedman -- it bears Mr. Rosenberg's initials
8 and another set of initials that I can't identify in the 9 upper left hand corner.

10          Q       Would you now please read over to yourself the 11 contents of that memorandum?  Now, sir, can you recall 12 whether this is, in fact, a memorandum in which you took 13 your instructions as to how to draft the testator's Will?

14          A       I have no specific recollection.  I would assume 15 that it was.

16          Q       Do you have any reason to believe that there
17 would have been another memorandum?

18          A       No, I do not.

19          Q       Thank you.  At this time, Your Honor, the 20 respondent would ask that Respondent's Exhibits B and C
21 for identification be received in evidence as Respondent's
22 Exhibits B and C.

23          THE COURT:  There being no objection, Exhibits
24 B and C are in evidence.

25          MR. PHALIN:  I have no further cross-examination

***

1 Your Honor.

3 BY MR. IMBERMAN:

4 Q Do you have the exhibits in front of you, Mister--

5 A I have Exhibit D in front of me, but not B or C.

6 Q What about B and C?

7 A No, I do not.

8 Q Look at Exhibit B, Mr. Lustgarten. Can you
9 identify for us the current Will that is referred to in 10 the first line?

11 A The current Will was the Will which Mr. Neugass had 12 which had been prepared by his former attorneys and we had 13 a copy of that.

14 Q Did you have that current Will on June 8, 1967,
15 when you wrote this memorandum -- Exhibit B?

16 A I must have.

17 Q Do you recall what that Will provided for with 18 respect to a marital deduction?

19 MR. PHALIN: Objection, Your Honor, this calls
20 for hearsay.

21 THE COURT: Well.

22 MR. PHALIN: Apparently the other Will is in the 23 file someplace, Your Honor, if they want to introduce it,
24 that would be fine.

25 THE COURT: I'm going to overrule the objection.

1           THE WITNESS: My recollection was that it provided
2 for an outright bequest of personal and household effects
3 including works of art to the spouse and that there was 4 as the residuary estate -- a formula marital deduction,
5 I don't recall whether it was an outright or in trust --
6 and as to the second half of the residuary estate, I really
7 don't remember what the Will provided.

8           MR. IMBERMAN: Now look at Exhibit C, please.
9 Which is your memorandum dated June 9th. And that reads
10 and I quote "pending a decision on the residuary estate, you
11 might consider the first five articles of the Will as set
12 forth in the accompanying draft". What does that mean --
13 pending a decision on the residuary estate?

14          A       Well, in the June 8th memorandum, I had --
15 in the art --

16          Q       Which is Exhibit D as in David?

17          A       Okay, Exhibit D --

18          Q       Yes.

19          A       -- had said "attached is a copy of his Will -- 20 the basic plan and the Will is satisfactory" and then showed 21 some changes. What I said on June 8th was that the 22 current Will does not provide what happens to the second
23 half of the residuary estate if Mrs. Neugass survives, 24 meaning survives the testator, that Nancy who is the 25 testator's daughter, predeceases, leaving no descendants.

1 And so that question w-s unresolved. I then said that
2 there was a remote contingency provision that anything
3 undisposed of by the Will was to go to his distributees.
4 And that under New York law -- or that is short-cutting
5 what this says -- I said that this would mean that Mrs.
6 Neugass gets the second half outright -- is this desired?
7 Anyway, apparently as close as I can reconstruct this --
8 there was some question as to the disposition of the resid-
9 uary estate in the event that the daughter predeceased the 10 wife, leaving no descendants. Then on June 9th, I wrote
11 a memorandum that you have just quoted -- setting forth
12 the first five articles which were having to do with the 13 disposition of personal and household effects -- paying 14 debts and so on and some legacies -- the Article 5th that 15 we have been discussing all morning, but stopping short 16 of the disposition of the residuary estate. So that's 17 what was referred to in the -- in Exhibit C.

18 Q Your Honor, could we approach the bench a moment?

19 THE COURT: Yes.

20 (Off the record)

21 MR. IMBERMAN: I have no further questions.

22 THE COURT: You may step down.

23 MR. IMBERMAN: Is the witness excused, Your 24 Honor?

25 THE COURT: Yes, will there be a further need of

115a

1 this witness?

2 MR. PHALIN: I beg your pardon, sir?

3 THE COURT: Will there be any further need of
4 this witness?

5 MR. PHALIN: No. No, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: You may be excused from further
7 attendance in the trial.

8 THE WITNESS: May I sit in the courtroom?

9 THE COURT: Yes, you may.

10 (Witness excused)

11 MR. IMBERSON: Has D actually been in evidence?

12 MR. PHALIN: Just for identification.

13 THE COURT: It has not been offered.

14 MR. IMBERSON: May I suggest that if you intend 15 to offer it, Mr. Phalin, that we offer another copy with 16 paragraph 4 excised?

17 MR. PHALIN: I do intend it to offer it at the 18 appropriate time. I don't know how I can directly at 19 this time.

20 THE COURT: Well, may I suggest that you have 21 someone in your office go and Xerox the second page in 22 the manner that we have agreed upon. And substitute that 23 second page.

24 MR. PHALIN: It will be done, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Very well. Now -- do you wish --

116a

1 MR. IMBERMAN Do you want Mr. Rosenberg now?

2 MR. PHALIN: Yes, if we could have Mr. Rosenberg--
3 to the stand, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Very well.

5 MR. PHALIN: At this time, Your Honor, the
6 respondent requests that the following three documents
7 be marked as Respondent's Exhibits E, F, and G for 8 identification. And I am now giving petitioner's counsel
9 copies of Respondent's Exhibits marked for identification
10 as E, F, and G respectively.

11 MR. IMBERMAN: Could you tell me which is which?

12 MR. PHALIN: They are in order. The document
13 dated June 16, 1967 is Exhibit E for identification.
14 The document dated July 6, 1967, is F for identification
15 and document dated July 7, 1967 is Exhibit G for identifi-16 cation.

*** 17 THE CLERK: Your Honor, Respondent's Exhibits
18 E, F, and G are all marked for identification.

19 THE COURT: Very well.

20 MR. PHALIN: Your Honor, may I proceed to refer
21 to Exhibit D for identification at the present moment?

22 THE COURT: Yes, you may.

23 ALAN ROSENBERG,
24 recalled as a witness, having been previously sworn,
25 took the stand and testified further as follows:

2 BY MR. ROSENBERG:

3 Q Mr. Rosenberg, I place before you Respondent's
4 Exhibit D for identification -- has been earlier identified
5 as a memorandum written by yourself. Do you recognize it
6 as such?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Would you please familiarize yourself with the 9 contents of it, please? Now, Mr. Rosenberg, may I ask you
10 -- is that -- is a memorandum marked as Exhibit D for identi-
11 fication. Is that, in fact, your memorandum of your initial 12 interview with the testator concerning his Will?

13 A I believe so. I can't be sure but I believe 14 it is.

15 Q Does it not state that you met with him that 16 very morning?

17 A Yes, it does. It says he is a new client of 18 mine. It is conceivable that I had met him before but 19 I really don't recall.

20 Q If you had had prior conferences with him,
21 wouldn't there be memorandums on that?

22 A If they're not in the file, there would not be.

23 Q Do you have any recollection of having written 24 any other memorandums of interviews --

25 A No.

Q -- other than the present one?

1 A No.

2 Q You testified earlier this morning that you
3 -- your recollection was that you had met with the testator
4 two to four times in your offices in regard to the drafting
5 of the Will. Would it be more correct to say now that you
6 met with him once?

7 A No, I couldn't say that I met with him once
8 because you've got to remember that the procedure of -- 9 in connection with an estate plan is -- you meet and you
10 may have phone conversations and you may have other meetings.
11 Not all of which would be a memoranda.

12 Q I understand that, but I am referring to face-
13 to-face contact in your offices.

14 A I could not say whether there was more than 15 one or not. I would really have to review time sheets
16 in order to determine that. I also visited the decedent
17 at his home.

18 Q Did you make a memorandum of that visit?

19 A No, I did not.

20 Q Was it in respect to the drafting of his Will?

21 A I could not tell you that either because -- you
22 know within a period of time, I was seeing him -- I went 23 up to his home, I saw him in the office -- I did not 24 remember the precise content of each meeting at this time.

25 Q If I may have Respondent's Exhibits E, F, and G

1 for identification. Q., thank you. Mr. Rosenberg, I
2 place before you Respondent's Exhibits E, F, and G for 3 identification. I am wondering if you might identify 4 them for the record.

5 A E is a letter of June 16th to Mr. Neugass forward-
6 ding to him a copy of a draft of his Will.

7 Q Thank you. And the next exhibit? E, I believe,
8 for identification. Or F rather.

9 A F is a memorandum to our accounting department
10 enclosing the original Wills and the conformed copies
11 for filing the original Will in our firm vault and 12 describing that conformed copies were sent to the executors
13 who were named in the Will.

14 Q Now does that memorandum state on which date
15 the Will was executed.

16 A Yes, July 6th.

17 Q Thank you. Would you please identify Exhibit G
18 for identification?

19 A G is a letter to Mr. Neugass dated July 7th
20 which forwards to him a conformed copy of the new Will 21 and -- certain other documents which described.

22 Q Thank you. Now, Mr. Rosenberg, earlier this 23 morning you testified that prior to your testimony on 24 direct, you had refreshed your memory by reviewing your 25 legal file and memorandums and correspondence concerning

1 your contacts with the testator.

2 A I think that I said I had reviewed the memos.
3 I do not think I said I reviewed the correspondence.

4 Q So I ask you now, did you review any documents
5 other than those before you -- the four documents you
6 have in front of you.

7 A Well, I -- I looked through all the memoranda
8 in the file so I looked at all of the memoranda in our 9 file. This is the only one that I believe related to the 10 testimony this morning.

11 Q Do you have any recollection of their being 12 other -- relatively pertinent documents --

13 A No.

14 Q -- that you used. Just those four?

15 A This -- this memorandum of May 11th is what I 16 looked at.

17 Q That was the main source of your --

18 A That was the main source of my -- of the file
19 information that I had.

20 Q Now with respect to your instructions to Mr.
21 Lustgarten as to how the Will should be drafted -- did
22 you not send him written instructions?

23 MR. IMBERMAN: Objection, if Your Honor please.
24 I think that's a misquotation of the witness' testimony.
25 I don't think he said he ever instructed Mr. Lustgarten

1 how to draw up the Will'.

2 THE COURT: Well, would you rephrase the question.

3 MR. PHALIN: Whom did you instruct to draft the 4 testator's Will?

5 A Well, I really didn't instruct anyone. At that
6 time I was an associate in the firm and I sent this memo-
7 randum which is directed to a partner in the estates
8 department. I would not be the one who would determine.
9 At that time I would not have been the one who would have 10 drafted the Will.

11 Q Did you issue any other written instructions
12 concerning the drafting of the Will?

13 A No, I did not.

14 Q Do you know of any other written instructions
15 that were issued concerning the drafting of the Will?

16 A No.

17 Q At this time, Your Honor, the respondent would 18 ask that the Respondent's Exhibits D, E, F, and G for 19 identification be received in evidence as Respondent's
20 Exhibits D, E, F, and G with the understanding that 21 Exhibit D will be corrected.

22 THE COURT: We have the substitute copies of 23 Exhibit D at this time. Suppose we return the copies 24 of the instrument as originally used to the counsel for 25 the petitioner.

1           MR. PHALIN: Again then, Your Honor, the respon-
2 dent would ask that Exhibits D, E, F, and G for identifi-
3 cation be received in evidence as Respondent's Exhibit
4 D, E, F, and G.

***** THE COURT: They will be admitted.

6           MR. PHALIN: I have no further cross-examination
7 of the witness, Your Honor.

8           THE COURT: Is there redirect?

9           MR. IMBERMAN: May I just have a minute, Your 10 Honor.

12 BY MR. IMBERMAN:

13 Q       Mr. Rosenberg, in addition to what may be memor-
14 ialized in the memoranda that are in evidence D, E, F, and 15 G -- is it true that there were conference between you
16 and people in the office with respect to the drafting 17 of this will which are not recorded in any memoranda?

18 A       Yes.

19 Q       That is your present recollection?

20 A       Yes.

21 Q       And it is also true that there were discussions
22 between you and the decedent concerning his Will at the 23 May 11, 1967, which are not recorded in any memoranda?

24 A       That is correct.

25 Q       And is it also true that the Will as signed by

1 the decedent was the result of the various conferences
2 which you had both with him and with people in the office?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q No further questions.

5 THE COURT: You may step down.

6 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

7 (Witness excused)

8 THE COURT: Does this complete the testimony in 9 the case?

10 MR. IMBERMAN: Yes, Your Honor, I have no further 11 witnesses.

12 MR. PHALIN: The respondent rests, Your Honor.

13 MR. IMBERMAN: I rest.

14 THE COURT: Gentlemen, we have some questions
15 here which are not easy questions. I would appreciate
16 receiving briefs. Do you gentlemen have any suggestions
17 as to whether the briefs be seriatim briefs or simultaneous
18 briefs?

19 MR. PHALIN: Your Honor, in light of the fact
20 that respondent is still rather uncertain as to precisely
21 what legal arguments the petitioners intend to make. It
22 might be helpful to the respondent if the Court could 23 assign seriatim briefs.

24 MR. IMBERMAN: I'm not here as an appellate
25 Your Honor, so that I have to file my brief first. It

124a

1 seems to me the proper procedure would be for both sides
2 to file briefs within the date designated by Your Honor
3 and then both sides can file reply briefs within a date
4 designated by Your Honor. That would be fair to both 5 of us.

6 THE COURT: All right, we will have simultaneous
7 briefs then.

8 MR. IMBERMAN: Yes.

9 THE COURT: Do you have requests as to the dates?
10 The normal --

11 MR. IMBERMAN: 45 days with the exchange of 12 original briefs in 30 days after that, Your Honor, and 13 the reply briefs. Is that customary?

14 THE COURT: Yes, would you give us those dates,
15 Mr. Parker?

16 THE CLERK: The original briefs would be March
17 10, 1975, Your Honor, and the reply briefs would be April 18 8, 1975.

19 THE COURT: Very well. Anything further before
20 we close the record in the case?

21 MR. IMBERMAN: I assume these briefs will be 22 exchanged.

24 MR. IMBERMAN: I, now --

25 THE COURT: The rules --

125a

1           MR. IMBERMAN -- is the filing to be on April
2       8th of both briefs, Your Honor. Or should Your Honor
3       receive the initial briefs when they are exchanged? What 4       is your preference?

5           THE COURT: Well, the rules provide that the 6       briefs may be served on the parties by one another. And 7       I have no feeling about that one way or the other. I
8       suppose that the practice is for the chief counsel to 9       file the briefs in Washington and I believe the Court
10      would ordinarily serve the original briefs. Is that 11      correct?

12           MR. IMBERMAN: That is correct, Your Honor.

13           THE COURT: So you may handle it either way you
14      prefer.

15           MR. IMBERMAN: Thank you, Your Honor, I'll 16      consult with counsel.

17           THE COURT: You may serve the counsel locally
18      or you may send them to the Clerk in Washington and the 19      Clerk will serve them if you do that.

20           MR. IMBERMAN: Very well, sir.

21           THE COURT: Very well, on this basis the case
22      will be submitted.

23           MR. IMBERMAN: Thank you, Your Honor.

24           MR. PHALIN: Thank you, Your Honor.

UNITED STATES TAX COURT

ESTATE OF LUDWIG NEUGASS, deceased, HERBERT MARX, JACQUES COE, JR. and CHASE MANHATTAN BANK, N.A., Executors, Petitioners v. COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE, Respondent

Docket No. 4734-73.

Filed October 29, 1975.

Decedent's will gave to his surviving spouse and daughter successive life estates in his art collection and the remainder interest therein to a foundation. The will further provided that, within 6 months after the date of his death, his surviving spouse could elect to take absolute ownership of any item in the collection. Within the 6-month period, the surviving spouse elected to take absolute ownership of certain items, and the estate included their value in its computation of the marital deduction.

Held, the surviving spouse was given a terminable interest in the items of which she took absolute ownership and their value may not be taken into account in computing the marital deduction allowed by sec. 2056 (a), I.R.C. of 1954.

Jacob Imberman, Alan S. Rosenberg, and Lawrence J. Rothenberg, for the petitioners.

Michael K. Phalin, for the respondent.

FEATHERSTON, Judge: Respondent determined a deficiency in petitioners' Federal estate tax in the amount of $249,231.31. Concessions having been made, the only remaining issue is whether petitioners are entitled to a marital deduction under section 2056(a) <sup>1/</sup> for the value of certain works of art which decedent's surviving spouse received under the terms of decedent's will.

FINDINGS OF FACT

Ludwig Neugass (hereinafter decedent) died testate on February 24, 1969, a domiciliary of New York, New York, survived by his wife, Carolyn, and his daughter, Nancy Carouso (hereinafter Nancy), and two grandchildren. Herbert Marx, Jacques Coe, Jr., and Chase Manhattan Bank, N.A., were issued letters testamentary by the Surrogate's Court, New York County, New York (hereinafter Surrogate's Court). As of the date they filed the petition herein, the executors' principal office was located in New York, New York.

Decedent's last will and testament was admitted to probate on April 3, 1969, in the Surrogate's Court. It contained the following provisions:

FIFTH: I direct that if my wife, CAROLYN NEUGASS, survives me, she shall have the life use of all my paintings and other works of art (hereinafter called my "collection"), without bond, and that upon her death my daughter, NANCY CAROUSO, if she is then living, shall have the life use of said collection, without bond. Upon the death of the survivor of my wife and my daughter, said collection shall become the absolute property of the LUDWIG NEUGASS FOUNDATION.

Neither my wife nor my daughter shall be under any duty to insure said collection or any item therein, but if the FOUNDATION shall elect so to insure the proceeds received upon any loss shall become the absolute property of the FOUNDATION, (free of the life use of either my wife or my daughter).

With respect to any item in said collection:

(a) Within six months after the date of my death, either my wife or my daughter may renounce her life use thereof and, if both of them so renounce, the item shall become the absolute property of the FOUNDATION.

(b) Within six months after the date of my death, either my wife or my daughter may elect to take absolute ownership of any item, whereupon said item shall become the absolute property of my wife or my daughter; in the case of my daughter, such election shall take effect if and only when her life use has begun.

(c) At any time after said six months period either my wife or my daughter may terminate her life use of any item and thus accelerate with respect to said item the provisions otherwise effective upon her death.

On July 2, 1969, pursuant to Article FIFTH of decedent's will, Carolyn Neugass executed and filed with the Surrogate's Court two documents in notarized form. One, denominated "Election Pursuant to Article Fifth (b) of the Will of Ludwig Neugass," provided as follows:

WHEREAS, under the terms of Article FIFTH of the Will of LUDWIG NEUGASS, deceased, said decedent bequeathed to his wife, CAROLYN NEUGASS, the life use of all of his paintings and other works of art; and

WHEREAS, under the terms of Article FIFTH (b) of said Will, his wife may within six months after the date of said decedent's death, elect to take absolute ownership of any item of his paintings and other works of art, whereupon said item shall become her absolute property.

NOW, THEREFORE, the undersigned, does hereby elect to take absolute ownership of the items of paintings and other works of art of the decedent listed on Schedule A annexed hereto.

Dated: July 2, 1969

The other instrument entitled, "Renunciation Pursuant to Article Fifth (a) of the Will of Ludwig Neugass," reads as follows:

WHEREAS, under the terms of Article FIFTH of the Will of LUDWIG NEUGASS, deceased, said decedent bequeathed to his wife, CAROLYN NEUGASS, the life use of all of his paintings and other works of art; and

WHEREAS, under the terms of Article FIFTH (a) of said Will, his wife may within six months after the date of said decedent's death, renounce her life use of any item of his paintings and other works of art.

NOW, THEREFORE, the undersigned, does hereby renounce her life use of the items of paintings and other works of art of the decedent listed on Schedule A annexed here-to, thereby commencing the life use of NANCY CAROUSO, to begin upon the execution of this instrument.

Dated: July 2, 1969.

CAROLYN NEUGASS

On May 22, 1970, the executors filed a Federal estate tax return with the District Director of Internal Revenue at Manhattan, New York, claiming a marital deduction of $642,908.97, which included the value of the artworks of which decedent's spouse elected to take absolute ownership.

In the notice of deficiency, respondent disallowed $337,329.88 of the claimed marital deduction, representing the value of the works of art in which Carolyn Neugass elected to take absolute title. Such disallowance was based on respondent's determination that "the interest of the surviving spouse is a terminable interest as defined in Section 2056 of the Internal Revenue Code."

Section 2056 allows a deduction not to exceed 50 percent of the decedent's adjusted gross estate for the value of any interest in property which "passes or has passed" from the decedent "to his surviving spouse, but only to the extent that such interest is included in determining the value of the gross estate." This general rule is qualified in several respects. One qualification, section 2056(b)(1), <sup>2/</sup> provides that no marital deduction will be accorded a "terminable interest." The definition of that term has been concisely summarized in Allen v. United States, 359 F.2d 151, 154 (2d Cir. 1966), cert. denied 385 U.S. 832 (1966), as follows:

to the surviving spouse will terminate or fail, no deduction shall be allowed under this section with respect to such interest--

(A) if an interest in such property passes or has passed (for less than an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth) from the decedent to any person other than such surviving spouse (or the estate of such spouse); and

(B) if by reason of such passing such person (or his heirs or assigns) may possess or enjoy any part of such property after such termination or failure of the interest so passing to the surviving spouse;

and no deduction shall be allowed with respect to such interest (even if such deduction is not disallowed under subparagraphs (A) and (B))--

(C) if such interest is to be acquired for the surviving spouse, pursuant to directions of the decedent, by his executor or by the trustee of a trust.

* * *

135a
Findings of Fact and Opinion

A terminable interest is defined, in general, as one which possesses the three characteristics found in sections 2056(b)(1)(A) and (B). First, it must be an interest in property which will terminate upon the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event or upon the lapse of time. Second, another interest in the same property must pass or have passed to someone other than the spouse from the decedent for less than an adequate consideration. And third, such other person must be able to possess or enjoy a part of such property upon the termination of the spouse's interest. With certain exceptions not relevant to this case, the interest bequeathed to a spouse qualifies for the marital deduction unless all three of these characteristics are present.

It is now well settled that the determination of whether an interest is terminable is to be judged in the light of events at the precise moment of the decedent's death. * * * [Fn. ref. omitted.]

The first sentence of Article FIFTH of decedent's will gave Mrs. Neugass only a life estate in decedent's art collection, and such an estate clearly is a terminable interest. Sec. 20.2056(b)-1(b), Estate Tax Regs. At the moment of decedent's death, Mrs. Neugass had not made her election to take absolute ownership of any items in the art collection. The bequest, therefore, is a terminable interest and does not qualify for the marital deduction.

Petitioners contend, however, that the first sentence of Article FIFTH and Article FIFTH (b) are alternative provisions which authorized Mrs. Neugass to elect to take a life estate or absolute ownership of any or all items in decedent's art collection. They maintain that, pursuant to Article FIFTH (b), Mrs. Neugass elected to take absolute ownership of selected items, and that her election relates back to decedent's death. On this ground, petitioners argue that her interest in those items was not a terminable one and the value thereof may be taken into account in computing the marital deduction. To support their position, petitioners cite Estate of George C. Mackie, 64 T.C. 308 (1975). We do not agree.

136a
Findings of Fact and Opinion

The first sentence of Article FIFTH gave Mrs. Neugass and Nancy successive life estates in decedent's art collection. No action was required to put that provision into effect. It took effect as a result of Mrs. Neugass' surviving decedent. At the time she elected to take absolute ownership of the selected items, on July 2, 1969, nearly 5 months after decedent's death, she already had a life estate in decedent's entire art collection. <sup>3/</sup>

3/ A renunciation by Mrs. Neugass of her life interest in any items in the art collection would have related back to the date of decedent's death, but, also, would have caused the commencement of Nancy's life interest. Petitioners so interpreted the will in the renunciation document, quoted in our Findings. See also Article FIFTH (c). Such a renunciation would have terminated her power to take absolute ownership of the renounced items.

Indeed, the provisions of Article FIFTH (b), empowering Nancy or Mrs. Neugass to take absolute ownership of any item, contemplate that they could do so only in respect of property in which she already held a life use. In Nancy's case, the article expressly provides that her election shall take effect "if and only when her life use has begun." No such express condition appears in the will in respect of Mrs. Neugass, but that condition is implicit in the first sentence of Article FIFTH giving her the life use of the art collection, without any action on her part, if she "survives" the decedent. The renunciation document, quoted in our Findings, interpreted the will to provide that upon <sup>4/</sup> Mrs. Neugass' renunciation of her life use of any item, Nancy's life estate shall commence. Consistently, the election document, also quoted in our Findings, contains no renunciation of Mrs. Neugass' life estate in the paintings and other artworks of which she took absolute ownership. Rather, it refers to the bequest to her of the life use of the art collection, to Article FIFTH (b) permitting her to elect to take absolute ownership of any item, and her election to take absolute ownership of the items listed on the attached schedule.

Since Mrs. Neugass already had a life estate in decedent's art collection, she merely enlarged her existing interest when she took absolute ownership of the selected items. In these circumstances, Mrs. Neugass' right to "elect" absolute ownership of items in decedent's art collection was not an alternative to her life estate, but was a power to enlarge her existing interest to give herself absolute ownership of the selected items. Such power was a power to appoint to herself.<sup>5/</sup> Her exercise of that power did not purport to relate back to decedent's death but was effective as of July 2, 1969, the date she executed and filed her election with the Surrogate's Court.

<sup>5/</sup> Although requested specifically to brief the point under New York law, the parties have cited no New York cases defining the legal standards for distinguishing a bequest of a life estate plus a power of appointment from a bequest giving the beneficiary the right to choose between a life estate and absolute ownership. In Re Estate of Jacobsen, 306 N.Y.S.2d 290 (Surr. Ct. 1969) aff'd. 306 N.Y.S.2d 297 (Ct. App. 1969} and In Re Flyer's Will, 279 N.Y.S.2d 75 (Surr. Ct. 1967), are not apposite. We think the Prerogative Court's opinion in In Re Vanatta's Estate, 131 A. 515 (N.J. Pre. Ct. 1926), is distinguishable in that it was not clear in that case, as it is here, that the surviving spouse could elect to take absolute ownership only after her life interest had commenced. The court interpreted the will in that case to give the beneficiary a choice of two alternative bequests. For the reasons stated in the text, the instant will cannot be so interpreted.

Section 2056(b)(5) <sup>6/</sup> provides that where a decedent passes by will a life estate to a surviving spouse with a

6/ Sec. 2056(b)(5) provides as follows:

(5) Life estate with power of appointment in surviving spouse.--In the case of an interest in property passing from the decedent, if his surviving spouse is entitled for life to all the income from the entire interest, or all the income from a specific portion thereof, payable annually or at more frequent intervals, with power in the surviving spouse to appoint the entire interest, or such specific portion (exercisable in favor of such surviving spouse, or of the estate of such surviving spouse, or in favor of either, whether or not in each case the power is exercisable in favor of others), and with no power in any other person to appoint any part of the interest, or such specific portion, to any person other than the surviving spouse--

(A) the interest or such portion thereof so passing shall, for purposes of subsection (a), be considered as passing to the surviving spouse, and

(B) no part of the interest so passing shall, for purposes of paragraph (1)(A), be considered as passing to any person other than the surviving spouse.

This paragraph shall apply only if such power in the surviving spouse to appoint the entire interest, or such specific portion thereof, whether exercisable by will or during life, is exercisable by such spouse alone and in all events.

power in the spouse alone to appoint the entire interest either to himself or his estate, such life estate will qualify for the marital deduction as an exception to the terminable interest rule. Hoffman v. McGinnes, 277 F.2d 598 (3rd Cir. 1960); see also Estate of Opal v. Commissioner, 450 F.2d 1085, 1086-1087 (2d Cir. 1971), affg. 54 T.C. 154 (1970); Pipe's Estate v. Commissioner, 241 F.2d 210, 213 (2d Cir. 1957), affg. 23 T.C. 99 (1954), cert. denied 355 U.S. 814 (1957). This exception applies, however, only if such power is "exercisable by such spouse alone and in all events." Since Mrs. Neugass' "power" was required to be exercised within a period of 6 months after decedent's death, respondent contends that it was not exercisable "in all events." We agree. The following sentence in section 20.2056(b)-5(g)(3), Estate Tax Regs., is explicitly clear:

The power is not "exercisable in all events", if it can be terminated during the life of the surviving spouse by any event other than her complete exercise or release of it.

The bequest to Mrs. Neugass is, therefore, a terminable interest which does not qualify for the marital deduction.

Secs. 20.2056(b)-5(a)(3) and (4), 20.2056(b)-5(g)(1)(i),
Estate Tax Regs. <sup>7/</sup>

We do not think Estate of George C. Mackie, supra, is apposite. In that case, the decedent bequeathed to his surviving spouse properties to be selected by her from the residue of his estate. The will provided that she could accept or reject the bequest, in whole or in part, by delivering a written election to decedent's executrix within 4 months of his death. Failure to make an election was to be deemed a rejection of the bequest. Within 4 months, she made the election. Applying the law of North Carolina, this Court held that the estate was entitled to the marital deduction for the bequest, concluding that the election related back to the date of the decedent's death and analogizing the case to those cases in which the surviving spouse may elect to take under the will or to take her statutory share. See Dougherty v. United States, 292 F.2d 331 (6th Cir. 1961); United States v. Crosby, 257 F.2d

<sup>7/</sup> Treating a power to enlarge an existing interest from a life estate to absolute ownership as an alternative bequest, as petitioners seek to do, would effectively eliminate the provisions qualifying and limiting the general rule of sec. 2056(b)(5), such as the requirement that the power be exercisable "in all events."

515 (5th Cir. 1958); see also sec. 20.2056(e)(2), Estate Tax Regs.; cf. Allen v. United States, 359 F.2d 151 (2d Cir. 1966), cert. denied 385 U.S. 832 (1966)

In the instant case, Mrs. Neugass was not faced with a choice between alternatives, as was Mrs. Mackie. She was given a life estate without any strings attached to the bequest. She could take that bequest as given or she could enlarge it by electing to take absolute ownership of selected items. For the reasons stated, we think her right to elect to enlarge her life estate was not an alternative bequest but was a power to appoint the selected items to herself. 8/

8/ Petitioners offered oral testimony designed to show (1) decedent's desire to minimize estate taxes; (2) his concern for Mrs. Neugass' well-being and enjoyment of the art collection; and (3) the uncertain state of New York law at that time with respect to disclaimers of testamentary dispositions. We find nothing in this testimony to aid petitioners' case. The meaning of the words used in the will cannot be altered by some general ideas as to what decedent intended when he executed his will. The "draftsmen of testamentary instruments * * * [must] be meticulous in adhering to the formal requirements of section 2056." Allen v. United States, 359 F.2d 151, 153 (2d Cir. 1966), cert. denied 385 U.S. 832 (1966); see also Jackson v. United States, 376 U.S. 503, 511 (1964). For the reasons stated in the text, we do not think the words of decedent's will can be interpreted to meet those requirements.

Petitioners rely, next, upon the section 2056(d)(1) <sup>9/</sup> exception to the general rule disqualifying life estates for the marital deduction. That section provides that if a surviving spouse disclaims a property interest, such interest is deemed to pass, for marital deduction purposes, directly from the estate to the person entitled to receive it by virtue of the disclaimer. Petitioners contend that, by electing to take absolute ownership of the artworks selected pursuant to Article FIFTH (b) of decedent's will, Mrs. Neugass "disclaimed" the life estate in such property and as a result received an absolute fee in such property.

9/ Sec. 2056(d)(1) provides as follows:

(d) Disclaimers.--

(1) By surviving spouse.--If under this section an interest would, in the absence of a disclaimer by the surviving spouse, be considered as passing from the decedent to such spouse, and if a disclaimer of such interest is made by such spouse, then such interest shall, for the purposes of this section, be considered as passing to the person or persons entitled to receive such interest as a result of the disclaimer.

Accordingly, the argument goes, the selected artworks "passed" to her from decedent. <sup>10/</sup>

We think petitioners' reliance upon section 2056(d)(1) is misplaced. A disclaimer is a "disavowal, denial, or renunciation of an interest, right or property imputed to a person or alleged to be his." City Nat. Bank & Trust Co. of Columbus v. United States, 203 F.Supp. 398, 402 (S.D. Ohio 1962), affd. 312 F.2d 118 (6th Cir. 1963), cert. denied 373 U.S. 949 (1963). For section 2056(d)(1) to apply, the property must pass "to the person or persons entitled to receive the interest as a result of the disclaimer." (Emphasis added.) Grace M. Parker, 62 T.C. 192, 198 (1974); cf. Estate of Medora L. Salter, 63 T.C. 537, 545-546 (1975), on appeal (5th Cir. April 17, 1975). Had Mrs. Neugass merely disclaimed or renounced her life use of any item in the collection, she would have received no interest therein. Nancy's life interest in such item thereupon would have commenced. Mrs. Neugass did not become entitled to absolute ownership of decedent's artworks as a result of a disclaimer, but as a result of the exercise of the power conferred in terms of an election under Article FIFTH (b) of the will. <sup>11/</sup>

* * * if the surviving spouse disclaims a bequest of the decedent to her and the property falls into the residue passing to other persons, no marital deduction is permitted with respect to such property. The property is considered as passing from the decedent to the residuary legatees. If, in such a case, however, the surviving spouse is the residuary legatee, the interest which she so disclaimed is considered as passing to her from the decedent (as a result of the disclaimer) for the purposes of the marital deduction.

However, as discussed in the text, had Mrs. Neugass merely disclaimed her life interest, she would have received nothing for Nancy's life use would have begun immediately.

11/ Sec. 20.2056(e)-2(c), Estate Tax Regs., contains rules applicable if the surviving spouse may elect between a property interest offered her under the decedent's will and a property interest to which she is otherwise entitled, such as dower or other statutory share. Such an election relates back to decedent's death. Significantly, however, that section applies only to "a property interest to which she is otherwise entitled," not to a power to enlarge an interest from a life estate to absolute ownership. See Allen v. United States, 359 F.2d at 155.

Other bequests were made to Mrs. Neugass, and the notice of deficiency allows the estate a marital deduction of $305,579.09. Petitioners do not contend that Mrs. Neugass, in electing to take absolute ownership of the several items of decedent's art collection,

We are compelled to conclude that petitioners are not entitled to the disputed deduction.
